Y. M. C. A. DAY

Celebrated in Bellefonte On Sunday, Churches Crowded

W. H. CHAPIN SPEAKER

Helpful Sermons Preached to Young Men In Most all The Churches in Bellefonte--Extracts From four of The Addresses.

UNION MEETING AT THE Y. M. C A

Sunday was Y. M. C. A. Day in Bellefonte and sermons to young men were preached from every pulpit in Bellefonte. The day was a glorious one and a great many people took advantage of the beautiful weather and attended devine services. Secretary W. H. Chapin of Williamsport filled the pulpit at the St. John's Reformed church in the morning and also led the Union Gospel meeting at the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon. Extracts from some of the sermons are as follows:

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL.

BY REV. EDWIN G. RICHARDSON.

Text: Watch ye, stand fast in the faith. Quit you like men, be strong, 1 Cor. xvi. 13. Some years ago letters were addressed to 20 Christian young women in a certain American city containing this request: "Name some of the qualities and Elements of character which you regard as essential in the ideal of young manhood." In reply the young women agreed on six points.

1. Reliability, which one writer calls "Honesty, truthfulness courage to do right." It is a sad truth yet one necessary to be faced that few men can really be counted on. How many does each one know that he would trust absolutely? A man is already of consequence in the world when it is known that he can be implicity relied on.

Some young men are unreliable about money matters, others about duties and engagements, but no unreliable can possibly be a successful man, and to know well one person who is absolutely to be trusted will do more for a man's moral and spiritual nature than many sermons.

Every young man should imitate the example of Abraham Lincoln of whom one said. "So long as the helm of state is entrusted to his hands we fell sure that, should a storm come, he will say with Seneca,s pilot:

"O neptune you may save me if you will, you may sink me if you will, but whatever happens I shall hold my rudder true."

2. Stainlessness. "The man soul writes one should be as unsullied and white as the woman soul." That is there should be one standard of morals for both sexes and not the double standard which today exists in all countries for as one writes: "I recognize no law of self-respect incumbent upon one and not upon the other." Caesars wife must be above suspicion," said the heathen, and so should Caesar be above suspicion adds the Christian. The Beatitude of Jesus: "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God" is meant for both sexes. What is wrong for the woman is wrong for the man for virtue has no gender. The realization of this demand for the single standard in conduct can only be accomplished through the courageous attitude of our best, our influential women; because men are just as good or bad as the women make them or will let them be. When professing Christian mothers shut their doors against rich profligates when professing Christian girls repel attentions from base men, then the glorious solo of Sin Galahad will become the chorus of the young men of our land:

"My good blade Carves the Casques of men.
My tough lance thrusteth sure,
My strength is as the strength of ten
Because my heart is pure."

The other elements of manhood touched upon were, Gentleness, Energy, Culture, Christlikeness.

And in conclusion, all young men were urged to cultivate the visional habit of mind so that they could see Christ standing by their side and hear him say as he spoke to the dead son of the widow of Nain. "Young man, I say unto thee arise" out of your bad habits and base ways, out of your selfishness and shallow conceits into the glorious stainless life of immortal bliss.

UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH.

BY REV. W. H SPANGLER.

"The Life that Tells." The text selected was, "So fight I not as one that beateth the air." 1 Cor. ix. 26 In part he said, the man who hits the mark is usually the man that takes aim. The man who wrote these words of the text was a man with a mission. Paul knew what he wanted and was determined to get it, and he did get it. It is the man with a purpose who lives the life that tells. It is the drifting ship that never gets into the harbor. Choose what you are to do in this world, find out what you are fitted to do—or better what your natural bent is, and what by hard work and God's help you can fit yourself to do and then do it or die. If you are a square man don't thrust yourself into a round hole. The misfits leave no mark; that is, no mark to be remembered with pleasure.

Another element of a life that tells is earnestness. Men count far more according to their intensity than according to their native ability.

The life that tells and continues to tell permanently must have a never-failing source of fresh impulse.

If you would have your life tell in blessing to fellow-man you must be a rounded out man. The Y. M. C. A. of Bellefonte helps young men to a rounded out manhood. It stands for the development of the spiritual, intellectual, social and physical man.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

BY DR. J. ALLISON PLATTS.

Two special services were held at the Presbyterian church Sunday. In the morning reports of the year's work were presented by all the officers and organizations of the church, this included the Pastor, Trustees, Deacons, Sabbath School, Westminister League, Ladies Aid Society, Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies, Young Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and the Margaret Wilson Foreign Mission Band. All have done good work, and the total results were somewhat surprising. The church has received 96 members, 77 on Confession of Faith, This is the largest accession in the Presbytery of Huntingdon for the year. The church also leads the Presbytery in "Benevolent" contribution with $2755; in gifts to Foreign Mission, $1429; and in the largest average of gifts to the Board of the church, the average of the church being $7.24 per member. The total amount raised by the church during the year was $9252.

In the evening, the Report of the Directors of the Y. M. C. A. was presented by Prof. James R. Hughes, and Dr. Platts preached a sermon in the interests of the work from the text, "How much then is a man of more value than a sheep!" He presented the value of manhood in its physical, mental, moral, social, and spiritual aspects, and showed how the Association meets the needs of a community like ours in the development of manly men.

ST. JOHN'S REFORMED CHURCH & Y. M. C. A.

BY W. H. CHAPIN.

General Secretary W. H. Chapin of Williamsport addressed the morning service at the Reformed church Sunday in the interest of the young men's Christian Association. As an introduction to his theme, Mr. Chapin showed satan as a usurper of Christ's place in the hearts and lives of men and women. Life is a warfare with Christ and this Gospel against satan and sin. Conditions of life have changed, which fact is largely due to the present drift from the farm to the city. This change of condition has had a more pronounced effect on young men than upon members of any other class The farm house is no longer the center of social life nor is the family circle found unbroken in the present city life as in the former days of rural life.

Satan had adapted his efforts to meet these changed conditions. The young men's Christian Association and other Christian organizations is but the church of Christ also adapting herself to present conditions. Young men have social natures and love recreation so must be provided with clean amusements. Their spiritual natures must be cared for and rightly developed. The church through the young men's Christian Association was successfully, meeting these and other special needs. The Association was also being used in the work for a special classes of men, sailors, soldiers, railroadmen, college men etc. The boy was also cared for at the most critical period of his life.

Mr. Chapin urged his hearers to come into closer touch with the local Association work and give it their best support.

Eighty-five men women and boys attended the afternoon service in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The music was in charge of William Dunning and was lead by an orchestra of six pieces and male choir. Mr. Chapin was again the speaker and paid a high tribute to Hugh Beaver to whom the gymnasium stands as a memorial. Mr. Chapin again spoke of the general association movement and illustrated his remarks by telling of a number of incidents of association work. At the various church services and at the rooms twelve hundred booklets illustrating the local work were distributed.

ALFRED BRISBEN INJURED

Bellefonte Boy in a Bad Fight at Santiago Cuba

BADLY CUT ON THE ARM

He is a Nephew of Colonel and Mrs. Jackson L. Spangler of Bellefonte. He made his Home here a Number of Years.

HE IS AN ENSIGN IN THE U. S. NAVY.

The following was clipped from the Philadelphia Press Friday. The subject of this story is an old Bellefonte boy, a nephew of Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler and a brother to Miss Brisbin, organist at the Presbyterian church. He is a young man of sterling qualities and who is winning a name for himself in the world.

Santiago, Cuba, May 1st.—In a conflict here yesterday between police and an orderly party of sailors returning to the United States cruiser Tacoma, the seamen were brutally beaten with clubs and machets, with the result that ten are now in the ship's hospital and one of them may die. Ensign Brisbin, who was escorting the men to the wharf was also attacked and received a severe cut on the arm.

The men were at a party on liberty and Leon de Oro. At 1 o'clock in the morning the party separated and twelve of them went to the Cafe Union. They were not intoxicated. A police captain, named Lay, who was in citizen's clothes, had been watching this cafe all the evening, with seven or eight policemen to support him At about 2 o'clock in the morning the seamen started for the wharf with the intention of boarding the Tacoma, Captain Lay claims that the seamen started the trouble, and the sailors claim that Captain Lay, without any provocation, caused the disturbance.

As the enlisted men of the Tacoma had been hindered by the police on their way to the wharf, Ensign Brisbin decided to walk slightly ahead of the party. Suddenly he heard a revolver shot, and immediately afterwards the police charged with revolvers and matchets. Brisbin received an ugly cut on the arm and was felled to the ground three times. As the crowd of seamen came up the policemen emptied their revolvers at them, at the same time attacking the Americans with matchetes. A fierce fight ensued, with the result that Henry L. Lee, a fireman of the Tacoma, will probably die of a compound fracture of the skull, caused by a machete, and a gunshot wound in the right breast. Ten other members of the crew of the Tacoma were taken to the ship's hospital suffering from machete wounds and clubbing. Not one of the policemen was badly hurt, though several of them suffered from fist contusions.

The captain and all the policemen who participated in the affair have been suspended by order of the civil Governor of Santiago, upon the representations of Commander Tappan, of the Tacoma, and the American consul, Mr. Holaday, who affirm that the lives of the American officers and men who go ashore are not safe while such men are acting as agents of the law. Mr. Holaday is making a thorough investigation of the incident.

A despatch received by Commander Wood, of the Dixie, from Commander Tappan, of the Tacoma, giving details of the affair, was forwarded to Governor Magoon by Commander Wood with the request that the authorities of Santiago be directed to assist Commander Tappan in every way in obtaining the facts in the case. Governor Magoon thereupon telegraphed to the Governor of Santiago, instructing him to extend all the assistance possible to Commander Tappan. Commander Wood is the senior officer in Cuban waters.

The reports received at the Governor's palace indicate that the fight between police and sailors at Santiago Wednesday was merely one of several brawls in which the sailors are alleged to have been the aggressors. The Governor of Santiago has telegraphed to Governor Magoon that two such fights have occurred and the municipal authorities have been directed to prevent further breaches of the peace.

Mayor Mesa, of Santiago, who arrived here Wednesday, reported to Governor Magoon that a conflict, caused by a sailor attacking a woman in a disorderly house, occured on Sunday. The police were summoned to arrest the man and the sailors and marines in nearby saloons went to the rescue of their comrade. The Mayor adds that several men were injured on both sides and that one Cuban was arrested and subsequently discharged

MRS JACOB FROM DEAD

Entered into Rest at Four O'clock Friday Morning. Certainly a sad Death.

With the accusation of murder hanging over her husband's head, Mrs. Jacob From passed into her eternal rest Friday morning at four o'clock.

Her death has cast a gloom not only in the town where she died but through out Bellefonte, you can hear people say "how sad."

On Easter Sunday when we called to see Mrs. From, she seemed perfectly reconciled to her fate and knew that before long she would pass into that great beyond. She spoke of going home to rest and that in a short time her sorrows, and pain would be o'er. But she wanted to live so much until after the court trial in which her husband is to be tried for his life.

She told us that Sunday that she was getting weaker and didn't know wether she would be here when Jacob was to be tried, but she knew that he was innocent of this crime and that she felt sure he would come home to her. But it is all over now, she will have no more worries and sorrows, and she is at rest.

When the news reached her husband at the jail he broke down and cried in a most pitiful manner He seems broken hearted over the affair and cannot be reconciled.

This woman on her dying bed claims her husband is innocent of this crime. Mrs. From is about 50 years of age.

On Sunday afternoon we attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Jacob From. It was an ideal spring day, the sun was shining bright and clear, just the kind of a day that fills the world with gladness. But in that little home at the foot of the mountain, sadness had taken the place of gladness and the place was filled with sorrow. As we drove down the mountain we saw hundreds of people standing along the road and in the yard in front of the house where part of the services were being conducted by Rev. Rearick of the Lutheran church. At the home the choir sang very beautifully, 'Someday my earthly house will fall, I cannot tell how soon t'will be, but this I know my all in all has there a home prepared for me, and I shall see Him face to face and tell the story saved by Grace." When they finished most every one in that house was crying. The minister repeated the 23rd Psalm and made an earnest prayer, in which he invoked the Divine blessing on the husband, that God would comfort him in this his hour of sorrow, and guide him through this life in truth and honor, so that someday they would be happy together in Heaven.

The funeral cortege moved to the cemetery where the casket was opened for the last time and hundreds of people either through curiosity or pity moved in an orderly manner around the body of the deceased woman.

Mrs. From reposed in a very pretty cherry colored casket mounted with silver handles. On the top was a beautiful bouquet of spring blossoms.

After the burial the funeral services were continued in the Lutheran church. The choir rendered several appropriate selections, one "I would not live always" being a favorite hymn of the deceased.

The pastor, Rev. Rearick preached a very helpful sermon from Hebrews 13-14. The entire service was tinged with an unusual sadness owing to the distressing circumstances surrounding the occasion. Centre Hall paid its tribute of respect in great numbers a long procession of friends wending their way to the cemetery in carriages and on foot and the Lutheran church being filled to its utmost seating capacity.

Jacob From the husband of the deceased was taken over early in the morning and was allowed to remain until after all the services were over. He was accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Fred Reese.

The casket bearers were the following gentlemen, West Whiteman, George Bradford, David Boozer, George Bushman, Charles and Mervin Arney.

The American Flag Hoisted.

Sergt. Blanton of U. S. A. who is in charge of the recruting office in Crider Exchange has hoisted an American flag in front of the building, this is the first time "Old Glory" waved in Bellefonte in an official capacity.

IN THE MASTER'S VINEYARD

Willie Bible a Former Bellefonte Boy

A CONSECRATED LIFE

A Great Many People in Bellefonte and Throughout the County Know this Young Man and his Letter Will Interest Them.

FROM THE HEART OF THE FAMINE

A great many of our people will remember Willie Bible especially a great many of the younger people of the town. When he lived on Curtin street we use to play ball with him and hare and hound, and we roamed together on Saturdays over the mountains and hills, a better companion we never had than this young man. In school he was exceptionally bright and always stood at the head of his class. Today he is working in the Master's Vineyard, doing a noble work away over among the heathen Chinese. He has fully consecrated his whole life to this grand work in trying to bring these poor creatures to live a christian life. His father Frank E. Bible Esq., of Lemont received a letter from him written from the heart of the famine region of China and we know it will interest a great many readers of the Daily News so it is with pleasure that we publish the letter in full. It is as follows:

"You can't realize how much I enjoyed your letter, I am afraid mine haven't been very regular of late but I haven't been regular in anything for nearly two months. I am now in the very heart of the famine region. I was called away by wire the third week in Feby. Was 150 miles across the country from Hang Chow I got back as rapidly as possible by foot boat, our quickest method of travel around Hang Chow; took one day to get my affairs in shape and came as fast as possible. Am now about 17 miles from the city of Tsin Kiang Pu about 600 miles from home.

I don't know how much the home papers have said about the famine, but the reports have not been exaggerated. We who are in the work have not had time to write of the conditions. I am in charge of a distributing depot. We are selling flour at the rate of 30 cash a chinese pound, which is a little more than a cent a pound in U. S. gold. We make a very careful examination of the country house by house, search for food, find out exactly how many people there are in the house, then we write a ticket which allows the family to buy at the rate of ½ chines pound per adult per day, two children are considered as an adult. We are selling rather than giving away because the people have a little money distributed by the government. There are no food stuffs in the country except what the famine relief Commission is sending or speculators are bringing, the latter absolutely prohibitive in price.

I have now examined hundreds of homes in which the only food was sweet potato leaves and a cake made from willow tree bark. In the very worst cases we write free tickets, and as people run absolutely out of money we change tickets which at first called for money into free tickets. At present about 1 bbl of flour in 8 which we give out is free."

(I insert here a note written after the letter) "Big gifts from the home land have just come. We can probably increase the allowance by half and lessen the price by 1 in consequence. Next month free tickets will reach ¼ to ½ and during May I suppose no money will be taken in.

Some of the work is very trying the Chinese are so slow by nature that they can't hurry even to save life. About 12000 people are being supplied from our depot. We use nearly 100 sacks of flour a day.

I am still putting out tickets, will put 150 tickets in this township, or about 15000 people in all. Then the township east of us has had absolutely no help yet and I want to get out at least 500 tickets there. That will give us nearly 20000 people. I don't know how we can manage it but we must try. The suffering and misery is indescribable. Some times people almost tear the clothes off me, old men and women beat their heads on the ground and beg for a ticket. We make it a rule to give no tickets except to people in their homes; by this we prevent any considerable amount of duplication or fraud. Sickness is very prevalent, small-pox of course and the famine fever is beginning. In the last few days I have found several homes with people who had just starved to death, and several times I have found dogs dragging a fresh skull or head or eating at the body of a woman evidently dead only a few hours, and all this in a district where we have been at work two months.

All our work in this section has touched but a few townships and there are whole countries where no relief has been given. We have been trying for some time to open relief work. The general direction of all the work is in the hands of the Missionaries resident in Tsin Kiang Pu. They have finally got work started on a canal. It will be ten miles long and will help to prevent future floods (the cause of the famine) as well as give present relief. I hope on Wednesday of this week to complete arrangements for another canal which will drain this immediate district. It will be four miles long a little more than 30 feet wide and 4 to 5 feet deep. Hope to have 2000 men at work the first of next week.

The work has been very well organized by the local committee but as I am the only foreigner here and the whole responsibility for the flour distribution, accounts etc. as well as this canal project is on me you can imagine I don't have a great deal of time to spare. I am living in a Chinese home, eating Chinese food for the most part. Meals at any odd hour of the day. For example supper tonight at 8:30 sometimes at 9:30. I hope to be relieved by another man in a month, or when the canal is finished.

Achenbach—Freed.

Two well known Lock Haven young people—Guy Hall Achenbach, formerly of Bellefonte, and Miss Anna Mary Freed—united in the holy bonds of wedlock, at high noon Wednesday at the home of the bride's grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Boyer, No. 21 West Main street, The ceremony was performed in the parlor, which was prettily decorated with festoons of smilax, flowers and early spring blossoms, by Rev. H. R. Bender, D. D. Mendelsohn's wedding march was played on the pianoforte by Mrs. Clarence Achenbach, and on the violin by Clair Peck. Although no invitations were issued and it was intended to have the wedding of an unostentation nature, about forty guests—relatives and near friends,—some of whom were from out of town, witnessed the ceremony, and extended hearty congratulations to the young couple after they had been made man and wife. There were no bridesmaids or groomsmen.

A wedding dinner was served at 1 o'clock, in the dining room, which was decorated with flowers and festoons of smilax from the chandelier to the four corners of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Achenbach departed on the afternoon flyer for a week's wedding trip to the important cities and points of interest in the east.

The groom is an energetic young business man of sterling qualities, junior partner in the firm of B. H. Achenbach and Son, confectioners, bakers of fancy cakes and caterers, and has a successful business career before him.

The bride is known to a wide circle of acquaintances as an amiable and prepossessing young lady, who is well qualified to be "queen of her own home." Her popularity is evidenced by the large number of handsome and useful presents she received from admiring friends and relatives.

May their journey through life as man and wife be along pleasant paths, and may sorrow never cross their threshold.

Death of Mrs. Fisher.

Alice Eliza, wife of General B. F. Fisher and daughter of James H. Causten, of Washington, D. C., aged 71. Relatives and friends invited to the funeral. Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. residence, 1100 N. 40th st. Solemn requiem mass St. Agatha's 10 a. m. Interment Holy Cross. Dr. and Mrs. Philip S. Fisher left Tuesday for Washington, D. C. where they will attend the funeral. They will be absent about four days.

30 Chickens Burn To Death.

During the silent hours of Sunday night the lamp in an incubator belonging to Hard P. Harris was upset in some way and exploded setting fire to a big wooden house containing 30 little chicks. Hard did his best to put the fire out, but it had gained a great headway before he reached the conflagation and the result was the loss of the chickens, the incubator and a great many eggs.

STATUE OF GEN. McCLELLAN

Ceremonies Were Held Under Direction of The Army of the Potomac.

THE SOLDIERS FRIEND

The Presidents Speech Was Typical and he Touched on Many Subjects.

MANY OLD SODIERS WERE PRESENT

Washington, D. C., May 3.—President Roosevelt, cabinet officers, army and navy officers and men prominent in civil life, participated Thursday afternoon in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue to General George B. Mc Clellan, which has been erected in this city by the Society of the Army of the Potomac. Hundreds of old soldiers were in the city to attend the unveiling ceremonies. Of these visiting veterans, about two-thirds were from the Army of the Potomas, of which General McClellan was commander, the remainder being members of the societies of the Armies of the Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee.

The monument was unveiled at Connecticut avenue and Columbia road. Brigadier General Henry C. Dwight, president of the Society of the Potomac, presiding over the ceremonies.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Y. Satterlee, bishop of Washington, opened the services with prayer, after which Brigadier General Horatio C. King, of New York, gave a brief history of the statue. The unveiling of the statue by Dr. George McClellan was followed by a salute by the Fourth battery of the United States field artillery.

Addresses were made by President Roosevelt, Major General Daniel E. Sickles, Major General O. O. Howard and Major General Grenville M. Dodge.

The parade of the troops past the statue was under the command of Major General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the United States army.

The military parade, which was reviewed by the president was the closing feature of the unveiling ceremonies.

Here and Gone.

The Gorton's Ministrel have been here and gone. The opera house was crowded and from the repeated applause the audience certainly was pleased. Of course you cannot please everyone and these people must have their little say|so, it was one of those old time ministrel shows with good clog dancing and singing.

Jake Welby made a great hit in his song "Waiting At The Church," he brought the audience to an uproar when he appeared on the stage dressed in a long white wrapper with a bunch of paper flowers and a white veil. He was "it."

"Goodbye, Sweetheart Goodbye," sung by Mr. Charles Cameron was beautifully sung, he has a magnificent voice was encored several times.

"Love me and the world is mine" was sung by Mr. Reese Williams. Mr. Williams has a pretty voice and was encored in his rendition of this selection.

Perhaps the one that the Bellefonte people were more interested in than any person in the troupe was Mr. Calvin Huss, a former Centre county boy. In the band he plays a slide trombone and is about as good as any that travels. On the stage he is also among the best. On Thursday evening he sang "Asleep in the Deep. He possesses a magnificent bass voice, which he controls with ease. He was encored several times.

Messrs. Cameron and Toledo as "Faust and Mephisto," were splendid in "The Enchanted Grosto."

Everybody Eat Dandelion And thus Become Beautiful.

A local physician is authority for the statement that dandelion is among the most healthful vegetables known to the medical profession, and he advises that all should eat freely of the delicious product of the field and dell. The active principles of dandelion have an hypnotic influence and posess medical virtues, so that it acts quickly as a spring tonic to the system, enriching and cleansing the blood—which is the wellspring of life—and healing and strengthening the tissues of the kidneys, so that one may acquire pure, rich blood, and incidentally, a clear complexion. As the spring tonic is freely offered free by nature, it might be well to give it a thorough trial while the fields abound with it.

With a Cow Bell Attached.

Dr. Mervine and bride and Guy Achenbach and bride both of whom were married at noon Wednesday had their troubles before they left Lock Haven on the Buffalo flyer for a wedding trip The cabs carrying the happy couples were decorated and gentlemen friends saw to it that all persons should know that they were just married.

After the grooms were seated in the car a friend of each stepped before them and in an instant had a cow bell attached to a button hole in the coat of each with a padlock and the key to the lock was thrown out the window. There sat the newly married men and they had either to tear the coats of their new wedding suits or let the bells tinkle. Up to the time the train pulled out of the station the bells were still ringing and the passengers roaring with laughter.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa: atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa, suppressed or absent monthly periods, arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and Anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

The Ground is Alive.

We are so used to thinking of the soil as mere mineral matter that it comes quite as a shock to find this is a mistake. As a matter of fact, the layer of soft mold which clothes the ground in all cultivable districts and from which vegetation springs is actually in great part a living layer of tiny plants and animals. Interlacing threads of molds and fungi, worms and grubs, creeping insects, tiny root parasites, decaying leaves and the millions of bacteria which spring from them—all these are mixed and mingled together for many inches down below our feet in a confused mass of life. Germs of all sorts swarm in countless millions. Indeed, all the plants that grow and life that exists on the face of the earth owe their being to the fact that the ground is alive. You take a shovelful of the finest soil in the world and sterilize it—that is, beat it till all the life in it is destroyed—and then plant seeds in it. No amount of care or watering will make those seeds grow. Their life depends on the life in the soil around them.—London Answers.

Elephant Life In the Jungles.

Without elephants jungles would be virtually impassable. The great beasts are a mixture of strength and weakness, of craft and simplicity. The paths through the jungle from village to village are merely tracks from which the interlacing foliage has been cut and thrust aside and the virgin soil trodden into a black mud. After a rain this mud is many feet deep, and no living creature except an elephant, a buffalo or a rhinoceros could labor through it. The elephant makes his way by lifting one foot at a time and inserting it deep into the slough in front, withdrawing another with a sound like the popping of a huge cork. Nothing but a ride on an earthquake could be compared with the sensation of being run away with by an elephant. As for stopping him, some one has well said that you might as well try to stop a runaway locomotive by pulling with your walking stick on the funnel as seek to check an elephant at such a moment with a goad.

The Questions They Ask.

The capacity of the average small boy for asking questions is practically unlimited, but it is doubtful whether more searching inquiries have ever been made by a boy than those propounded by a youngster to his father, who had taken him for a steamer trip. Here is a partial list:

"Is that water down there any wetter than the water in the Atlantic ocean?"

"What makes the water wet?"

"How many men could be drowned in water as deep as that?"

"Is that big man with the gold buttons on his coat the father of all those men who do whatever he tells them to?"

"Where do all those soapsuds behind the boat come from?"

"Could a train go as fast on the water as this boat?"—Chums.

Mad Dogs.

Mad dogs do not attack people. "When a dog has the rabies," said a physician, "he has lost control of his body, and what he does is mechanical. His jaws snap involuntarily, and if he encounters any object, whether animate or inanimate, he is likely to bite it. But a mad dog does not attack as does an angry dog. He does not pick out a victim or use any strategy. For this reason dogs suffering from rabies are less dangerous than is supposed. No grown person need fear them, for all he has to do is to get out of the way. The dog will not chase him. Of course, young children are in danger, as they do not know how to dodge the brute."

The true strength of every human soul is to be dependent on as many nobler as it can discern and to be depended upon by as many inferior as it can reach.—Ruskin.

The greatest pleasure is the power to give it.

Two of a Kind.

A revival meeting was in progress, and Sister Jones was called upon for testimony. Being meek and humble, she said: "I do not feel as though I should stand here and give testimony. I have been a transgressor for a good many years and have only recently seen the light. I believe that my place is in a dark corner, behind the door." Brother Smith was next called upon for his testimony and, following the example set by Sister Jones, said: "I, too, have been a sinner for more than forty years, and I do not think it would be fitting for me to stand before this assembly as a model. I think my place is behind the door, in a dark corner, with Sister Jones." And he wondered why the meeting was convulsed with the laughter of those who came to pray.

Don't Whisk Your Hat.

Never use a whisk broom to clean a hat, either stiff or soft, particularly a soft hat, as it gradually removes the fine surface originally on the hat. The worst effect, however, is the wearing away of the band and binding by such rough usage. The effect is more quickly shown on the best grades of bands and binding. A fine hair brush, one of curved shape, made especially to use under the curl of the hat, is good. Best of all, however, is a thick piece of woolen cloth. Such pieces are now in the form of pads, with a strap across the back, so that they can be held securely in the hand.—American Hatter.

The Odor She Wanted.

She paused on the pavement and clutched the arm of the woman who was with her.

"I have found it at last!" she exclaimed. "Did you notice it? It was that indescribable violet perfume which I have been looking for all these years. The woman who just passed us had it. Do you suppose she would think I was crazy if I went after her and asked her what the name of it is?"

"She would probably think you were insane," rejoined her companion, "but if you wish to know so much it would not do any harm to inquire."

She with the perfume had stopped for a moment preparatory to crossing the street.

"You will pardon me, won't you," asked the seeker after rare scents, "but would you mind telling me the name of that wonderful extract you have and where you got it?"

"Certainly not," was the response as the woman threw back her cape and showed beneath a great corsage bouquet of fresh double violets.—New York Herald.

Brains and Housekeeping.

"I wonder why a brain no bigger than a salted almond is supposed to be good enough to keep house with," remarked a matron the other day, "while a nimble and comprehensive intellect is supposed to be necessary in a woman who goes in for a 'career.' I find my housekeeping gives employment to every faculty I have. If I don't put out all the brain power I own, things don't go well. Memory, executive ability, observation, foresight—all are demanded in organizing and running a home. Wherever you find the domestic machine moving without a creak or a jar look for the clever brain of some woman behind it all. I've known girls to take the tone that they were thrown away in being obliged to look after the details of a house. Stuff and nonsense. It wasn't too much mind they had for it, but not enough."—New York Tribune.

Analogous.

A teacher had a very dull pupil whom he found extremely difficult to instruct in the letters of the alphabet.

"This is letter A," explained the teacher for the tenth time as he wrote it down on the blackboard. "And this letter B," he went on, putting down the second letter of the alphabet. "Now, my boy," he began, kindly and encouragingly, as he turned to the stupid boy, "let me see if you can remember them. What is this?" pointing to the initial letter of the alphabet.

"Letter A," came the slow response from the dense scholar.

"And this?" questioned the teacher, indicating letter B.

"Let 'er alone," returned the pupil instantly, his stupid face lighting up with pleasure at his own quick reply.—Bohemian Magazine.

The Turkish Mangal.

In most of the houses in Constantinople as well as in other cities of Turkey heating in winter is done by means of the so called "mangal." This consists principally of a receptacle for burning charcoal. A mangal may be nothing else than such a simple brass or iron receptacle or may be quite an artistic and expensive article of most rare and valuable workmanship. The charcoal is first thoroughly burned through, and when it no longer emits any flame or odor the mangal is brought into the room for purposes of heating. Sometimes it happens that proper attention is not paid to the burning charcoal, with not infrequent fatal results.

Force Exerted by the Heart.

The force exerted by the heart equals 120 tons lifted one foot. In other words, the work of the heart is equivalent to raising its own weight 20,000 feet in one hour. A strong man can raise himself but 1,000 feet in an hour. This enormous force, if exerted by the heart through a fixed rigid pipe, would shoot the blood along with each jerk at a rate of 200 feet a second. However, the arteries, being elastic, are distended by the jerk or beat of the heart, and when the heart pauses after the beat the contraction of the arteries sends the blood along in a steady non-intermittent flow, which averages about one foot a second.

Patmore's Wit.

In the early days of the Franco-Prussian war the Emperor William was in the habit of sending telegrams of a somewhat religious character to the queen. The late Coventry Patmore, the English poet, hit this off in the following skit:

By will divine, my dear Augusta,
We've gained a battle—such a buster!
Ten thousand Frenchmen sent below.
Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

No Time For Details.

An American speeding over the continent of Europe in his automobile asked of his chauffeur, "Where are we?"

"In Paris," shouted the man at the wheel, and he dust flew.

"Oh, never mind the details," irritably screamed the American millionaire. "I mean what continent?"

To Know Oneself.

How can a man learn to know himself? By reflection never, only by action. In the measure in which thou seekest to do thy duty shalt thou know what is in thee. But what is thy duty? The demand of the hour.—Goethe.

The Condition.

"Do you think you could be comfortable on $10,000 a year?"

"Yes, I believe I could if the people next door hadn't more than $9,000 a year and my wife knew it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Wedding of Miss Hall.

Surrounded by a number of relatives and friends, Miss Mabel Mae Hall and Mr. John A. Hetrick, both residents of Sunbury, were united in marriage this Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Weber, of Zion's Lutheran church, at the home of the bride's parents at No 33 North Fourth staeet.

Promptly at nine o'clock the strains of the wedding march, which was rendered by Mrs. S. K. Miller, floated through the parlors which were decorawith profusion of pink and white carnations for the happy event. Almost immediately the bridal couple attended by Mr. Walter Hetrick, brother of the groom, and Miss Flossie Lower marched in and took their place before the improvised altar and Rev. Weber performed the ring ceremony making them man and wife.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white crepe de chene over white silk and carried bridal roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hetrick left on the 9:40 train for Buffalo and Niagara Falls on their bridal trip after which they will reside in Sunbnry.

The bride came to Sunbury with her parents sometime ago from Atlantic City, and is a young lady of pleasing appearance and charming personality and has many friends here.

Mr. Hetrick is a young man of considerable ability and is popular among the young folks of this city who join in wishing the happy couple much success and happiness through life. Miss Hall is a daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Hall formerly of Bellefonte.—Sunbury News.

Lemon Club Organized.

Mrs. J. J. Van Gorder, as the "grand lemon" of "Crate No. 23, the Illustrious Order of the Lemon," holds a unique position in the world. She may thus become the head of a powerful organization, provided the women of the country adopt it as readily as have the users of the slang phrase. The Lemon club is organized for fun.

At a meeting in New Castle, this state, last week, Van Gorder was elected grand lemon. The other officers are: Grand lemon aside, Mrs. Wesley Remly; grand lemon peal, Mrs. Elmer Engle, grand lemon seed, Mrs. Wyle Patterson, grand lemon squeeze, Mrs. Goldie Humble.

Each candidate for admission must show she has met with the true requirements of a lemon, part of which is admitting having been squeezed. So far only married women have joined, owing to this rule.

The society will hold regular meetings, and the husbands will be invited the next time, when the grand lemon aside will entertain.

Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton.

MANY distinguished alienists have been brought into the public eye by the Thaw trial, and it was a dramatic moment when one of the most eminent of them all, Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, by declaring his belief that the prisoner was insane and unfit to confer with counsel opened the way for the appointment of a commission to determine Thaw's sanity. Dr. Hamilton's fame as an alienist is worldwide, and he is often called in consultation in Europe in the treatment of nervous diseases. But he is best known to the public as the expert who testified for the government in the trial of Guiteau, the assassin of Garfield, and who was called to pass on the sanity of Czolgosz, the assassin of McKinley. There is another reason why he is a man of special public interest, and that is connected with his descent from the hero and statesman of the Revolutionary era, Alexander Hamilton. The story of his ancestry brings out some striking coincidences.

Dr. Hamilton was born in New York in 1848 and is a grandson of the great Federalist. His paternal grandmother, the widow of Alexander Hamilton, who was a daughter of General Philip Schuyler, lived until he was six years of age. She was born in 1757, lived through the stirring times of the Revolution and of the war of 1812 and died within but three years of the century mark, when the air was full of the approaching storm over the question of slavery and dissolution of the Union.

Alexander Hamilton and his wife had two sons named Philip. This curious fact is explained by another fact still more curious. Their first son, Philip, was born in 1782. When he grew to manhood he attended Columbia college, which his renowned father had attended before the outbreak of the Revolution, when it was still King's college and where the elder Hamilton had held a crowd of "liberty boys" spellbound with a speech in defense of the rights of the colonies while the Tory president of the institution was making his escape through a back door and thence to a hiding place whence he ultimately stole away to England. The first Philip Hamilton graduated from Columbia in 1800 and was a young man of much promise, but he became involved in a political quarrel and was challenged to fight a duel. His antagonist was a man named Eckert. Young Hamilton met his opponent in mortal combat on Nov. 24, 1801, and was killed in the affray. By a coincidence which is certainly one of the strangest in history the elder Hamilton fell in a duel on the same spot three years later, meeting his fate at the hands of his political enemy, Aaron Burr.

It was in November, 1801, as has been stated, that Philip Hamilton was killed by Eckert. In the following June another son was born to the statesman and his wife, and the infant was christened in memory of the idolized young man who had met with so untimely a fate. The second Philip grew to manhood and married a daughter of Louis McLane. He was assistant district attorney in New York city and for some time was judge advocate of the naval retiring board in Brooklyn. He was the father of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton. A peculiar feature of this history is the fact that Alexander Hamilton met Burr in a duel after his son's death in such a combat had caused him to feel abhorrence for the practice. He recorded this feeling in a paper he wrote before going to the fatal meeting with Burr. Hamilton did not seek a duel with Burr, but the latter after Hamilton's efforts had caused him to lose the governorship of New York conceived a most bitter feeling toward the distinguished Federalist and determined to fix a quarrel with him. Hamilton in spite of his abhorrence of dueling was a fighting man and, furthermore, was haunted by a belief that democracy was going to culminate in the horror of the French revolution and that in that event a strong man would be needed and society might turn to him for leadership. He feared that he might be disqualified for such leadership by popular prejudice should he decline his opponent's challenge.

Dr. Hamilton is the author of numerous works on medical subjects and as an alienist occupies a rank perhaps higher than that of any other American physician. He was a witness in the trial of Roland Molineux, of whose innocence of the crime charged against him he was firmly convinced.

The Exposition At Jamestown.

WILLIAM COUPER.

TO educate along the lines of national history is the great object of the Jamestown exposition. From April 26, when President Roosevelt will press the button, start the machinery and make a speech, to Dec. 1, when the gates will close, the people who visit the show will be kept busy replenishing their stores of historical knowledge, and they will be surprised to find what a multitude of important things have happened in the vicinity of Jamestown island since the little fleet of three ships under Captain Newport landed some passengers on its shores 300 years ago on May 13 next. It was on April 26, 1607, that the Englishmen sailed between the capes which they called Henry and Charles and up the river which they named the James, after the reigning monarch. So April 26 was chosen for the opening day of the exposition, May 13 being designated as the day for the beginning of the great naval display.

Jamestown island, where the English settlers built James fort and James City, afterward called Jamestown, has been deserted for more than two centuries, so it was not a good place to hold an exposition. About all that is there now is the tower of the ruined church which the colonists built in 1620. Jamestown island is about thirty-five miles up the James river and is easily reached by boat from the exposition grounds, which overlook the waters of Hampton Roads about five miles from Norfolk.

The architecture of the buildings is colonial, to conform to the historical keynote of the exposition. Out into Chesapeake bay from the exposition grounds the United States government has built long piers, inclosing what is to be known as Smith harbor in honor of the gallant Captain John Smith, to whose indefatigable efforts in behalf of the Jamestown colony its preservation was chiefly due. One goes ashore from Smith harbor at Discovery landing and finds himself standing in Raleigh square. Even the exposition playground, which at Chicago was called the Midway Plaisance, at Buffalo the Midway, at St. Louis the Pike and at Portland the Trail, is called here the Warpath in sacred memory of the red men who took to the warpath in war paint, to the great alarm of the colonists.

It was on one of these historic occasions that Captain Smith had a narrow escape from death, and the Indian princess, Pocahontas, who, according to the story, saved his life at the risk of her own, has been commemorated by a beautiful statue, the work of the sculptor William Ordway Partridge. Smith, too, is to be preserved in bronze. His statue is now being cast at the foundry and will be unveiled on Jamestown island in the autumn. The impressive figure, eight feet in height, will be placed on a stone pedestal eleven feet in height, so that it may be seen from the decks of all steamers passing up and down the river. It is the work of William Couper, one of the best known of American sculptors and a Virginian by birth. He is fifty-three years of age and studied as a young man with Thomas Ball, whose daughter he married. For twenty-two years his studio was in Italy, but he now maintains one in New York. Couper has very effectively portrayed the redoubtable Smith as a courtier, left hand resting on the hilt of his sword and in his right hand holding a book, for he was ready with sword and pen.

Captain Smith was one of the most picturesque figures in the history of the colonies. Whatever exaggerations there may have been in his descriptions of his travels, he at any rate rendered the most valuable service to the struggling colony at Jamestown.

SCHURMAN OF CORNELL.

Learned University President and Letter He Could Not Read.

President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell university was a warm friend of the late Governor Frank W. Higgins of New York and was invited to deliver the principal oration on the character of the departed magistrate at the memorial services recently held in the state capitol at Albany. In the course of his remarks he took occasion to compare the problems of today in our own nation with those which concerned the Roman republic in the times of Tiberius Gracchus and warned statesmen of the present era in the American republic against overstepping constitutional limitations as Gracchus did, however righteous the cause in which they may be engaged. President Schurman's language was interpreted by some as referring to President Roosevelt, and as he and the chief magistrate of the nation have always been on excellent terms the theory was advanced that the remarks were intended as a friendly hint.

Dr. Schurman has been at the head of Cornell since 1892.

He once received a letter written in no language with which he was familiar.

"Send it to Professor Schmit for translation," he said to his secretary. "I believe it is Persian."

Schmit worked over it for hours before he located the characters. They were Arabic beyond a doubt, but he was not quite sure whether of the thirtieth century B. C. or the third A. D.

"I will send it to Oxford for investigation," he reported.

The office stenographer, a woman, was curious. "Let me see the funny thing," she begged. It was handed to her, and a moment later she began to laugh. "It's in shorthand," she cried, "Perkins' system!" She translated the last line thus:

"Excuse my writing to you in this abbreviated manner, but I've got to catch a train." President Schurman hopes that he caught the train, but Professor Schmit will never forgive the hasty correspondent.

Had a Slow but Sure Gait.

There have been numerous disappointments in the outcome of some of the boys. We remember one boy in particular who was the butt of all ridicule from the boys of his age, and he took it good naturedly. He seemed to have no particular friends and herded by himself. His clothes always looked funny, and he had that awkward swagger over which the rest of us had much sport. No one ever thought that that plug would ever get anywhere or have anything. But today that plug is drawing a better salary than any two of the old gang. He has more money, more influence and more friends than any of the rest of us. The plug had a gait that was slow, but it was sure. He didn't appear to be a bit bright then, but he had a surface that took on a polish.—Westphalia (Mo.) Times.

Yet He Didn't Need Them.

He had been calling on a young lady for many moons; but, being backward, his suit progressed slowly. Finally she decided it was up to her to start something, so the next time he called she pointed to the rose in his buttonhole and said:

"I'll give you a kiss for that rose." A large, open face blush meandered over his countenance, but the exchange was made. Then he grabbed his hat and started to leave the room.

"Why, where are you going?" she asked in surprise.

"To the—er—florist for more roses," he exclaimed.

When a Trout Is Hungry.

A curious incident, showing that trout will not be easily frightened from a hook when they are hungry, is told by a Maine sportsman. He felt a good bite, but before he could haul in the fish it broke loose and got away. He readjusted his bait and made another cast. In a minute the hook was again taken, and he pulled in a two pound trout. It was hooked in the side of the mouth, while upon the other side a piece more than an inch long had been torn from the jaw, and the wound was still bleeding. This showed conclusively it was the same fish that had just taken the hook and had got away. The singular part was that a fish so badly wounded should bite a second time.

HIDDEN DANGER.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Bellefonte Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

Danger Signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of ediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the coming of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cures sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Bellefonte proof.

Mrs. Nancy Davis, of 246 East Logan Street, says: "I suffered a bad fall some years ago when living n Rochester. I thought at first that I had broken my back. I was unable to get up without assistance and from that time I suffered for years with a weak back and excruciating pains through the loins and through the small of my back. Sometimes I was completely prostrated and helpless. Doctors and medicines failed to help me and the pain continued until I got Doan's Kidney Pills. I took only a few doses before I began to feel better and when I had continued using them for a while I was thoroughly cured. My back regained its strength and the pain left me. I have had no return of the trouble since."

Blue Eyed Babies.

It is a pity that all babies born with the prospect of being adopted out of an orphan asylum are not blessed with blue eyes. Most persons who wish to adopt children show a preference for the blue eyed variety.

"They seem to think," said the matron of one such institution, "that blue eyes give promise of great intelligence, honesty and general stability of character. That is pretty hard on the youngsters with eyes of brown, black, gray or hazel. Undoubtedly those children will grow up to be just as worthy citizens as the blue eyed tots, but it is impossible to make most of the prospective parents-in-law believe so. They have been influenced by the arguments of certain half baked scientific writers who claim that all the virtues are found in blue eyes, and the dark eyed children, no matter what their parentage, suffer from the discrimination."—New York Sun.

The Old Warming Pan.

"Yes, that is a fine specimen of the old brass warming pan," said an amateur collector of antiques, quoted by the Philadelphia Record, "but it hangs on the wall from this time on. It will not be brought into requisition for actual warming purposes again. It's too good." Then he added contemplatively: "My daughter thought it would renew the ancient flavor of things to put that warming pan to use. So on one of the coldest nights of the winter she filled the pan end with live coals, shut the lid and put the pan into one of the beds. In a little while the house was filled with smoke, which, on being traced to its origin, was found to come from the bed, which was afire. With a few olden time wood embers these warming pans were all right, but with live anthracite they simply overdo the job. We put out the fire, but, as I say, from this time on the warming pan hangs on the wall empty."

Kneaded Earth.

Even old Pliny wrote of "pisework," pronounced "pee-say-work." It was suggested by the building processes of the ants, and the durable walls made according to those wonderful architects of the insect tribe were called "formacie." The method was well known to the ancients, and some of the oldest houses in the world today are of this construction. Rondelet writes of a chateau in the department of Ain, France, which he repaired in 1764: "It was at least 150 years old, and the walls had acquired a hardness and compactness equal to ordinary stone, so that in enlarging the windows and other apertures the workmen used the same tools as in a quarry." Pie is simply kneaded earth. What is Mexican adobe?—New York Press.

Her Limit.

The old generation of Galloway lairds were a primitive and hospitable race, but their conviviality sometimes led to awkward occurrences. In former days, when roads were bad and wheeled vehicles almost unknown, an old laird was returning from a supper party with his lady mounted behind him on horseback. On crossing the river Urr at a ford at a point where it joins the sea the old lady dropped off, but was not missed until her husband reached his door, when, of course, there was an immediate search made. The party who were dispatched in quest of her arrived just in time to find her remonstrating with the advancing tide, which trickled into her mouth, in these words: "No anither drap, neither het nor cauld."—London Tit-Bits.

They Wouldn't Salute.

Black Jack Percival, who was a naval captain in the old days, once brought a cargo of Spanish jacks home in a man-of-war. He was in Spanish waters when the jacks were given to the United States by Spain and was ordered to bring them out in his ship. It made him angry, but he got the beasts aboard and sailed for New York. When he came through the Narrows the guns had been rolled back, and out of every port there stuck a jack's head. Thus decked out and without a salute, he came to his anchorage. The admiral commanding sent posthaste to demand why Captain Percival had not saluted. "I didn't salute," was the doughty captain's answer, "because I couldn't. I had two men twisting every jack's tail, but not a blanketed one of them would bray."

—Impure blood runs you down—makes you an easy victim for organic diseases; Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood—cures the cause—builds you up.

A little Kodol taken occasionally, especially after eating, will relieff sour stomach, belching and heartburn. J. B. Jones. Newport, Tenn. writes; "I am sure one 3 dollar bottles of your Kodol positively cured me of of dyspepsia, and I can reccommend it as that was three years ago and I haven't been bothered since with it." Kodol is guaranteed to give relief. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol relieves Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

BARNYARD AND FARMYARD CIRCUS.

Drew a Large Audience and Standing Room was at a Preminm.

Early on Friday morning you could see wagons, buggies, gigs, carriages and automobiles filled with people wending their way to Bellefonte to see the Barnyard and Farmyard circus, all day long these anxious people walked up and down the streets waiting for the big parade. The circus did not begin until 8:30 when the big tent was crowded.

As you entered the main entrance you could hear the boys calling out "lemonade, peanuts, popcorn." The band was playing funny tunes and the the crowd was thronged around the ticket wagon waiting their turn to buy a ticket for the sideshow and the big circus. Excitement reigned supreme when the announcement was made that the $10,000 beauty had been kidnapped by a lot of fellows from Coleville, indeed it seemed as though a panic would take place when the hero of the hour Montio De Salvador God Free mounted the band wagon and peacified the crowd by saying the report was incorrect and that the "Beauty Doctor" was inside ready to cast a smile upon the audience. For over an hour the crowd jammed and pushed around to get a peep at this piece of feminine beauty. Next to her sat the "Black Diamond Giant," a most wonderful sight to behold. From the floor up he was about ten feet tall. Next was the "Philippino or Gold Dust Twins," a rare specimen from our new possession. Next were the powerful strong men with muscles like Sampson, on around was the Snake Charmer, a woman of rare beauty with living reptiles coiled around her neck, Then we came to the Living Skeleton, a horrible sight to behold, a six inch bracelet would fit around her waist. Then we saw the Tatooed man that had been pricked by thousands of needles and was certainly a curious sight to behold. The White Haired Zulu was laughable and would have madea hit with Barnum and Bailey. And at a great expense a Chinese Midget was brought from China and placed on exhibition.

To go from town and give a performance, it takes four long trains and cost $20,000 for each entertainment.

They use 800 pounds of beef, 400 loaves of bread, 75 pounds of butter, 100 pounds of coffee, 20 tons of hay, 100 bushels of grain, 50 bushels of potatoes, every day in the year.

The acrobatic work was as fine as ever produced in Bellefonte in Bellefonte. The trapeze work by Prof's Hughes and L. Bush was exceptionally good, and the work on the flying rings by Mr. Godfrey and Prof. Decker could not have been done better by any one. Although the circus gave the most complete satisfaction. We noticed in the sideshow the following persons.

M'lle Slimmsby Russian Giantess, W. F. Dunnings.

Tatooed Man from Borneo, Bruce Meese.

White Haired Zulu, Lyle Bush.

Yo San Chinese Midget, Luther Crissman,

Gold Dust Twins, Frank and Vince Taylor.

Living Skeleton, Blain Port.

M'lle From From Snake Charmer, Don Wallace.

M'lle Cream Puff Fat Lady. H. Holtzabaugh.

High School Girl An Umpire

Miss Claire Sebring, sister of James Sebring, the Tritate baseball player, Saturday officiated as umpire during a game of ball between two juvenile teams, at Williamsport. Miss Sebring, who is a member of the High school freshmen class, rendered such excellent service that not a single objection was made to her decisions. Miss Sebring has visited Bellefonte friends a number of times, and is quite well known here.

WANTED—Fifteen men. Sam Rine, Supt. of the Water Works wants fifteen men on Monday. The work will likely last all summer.

OUR BORO FATHERS.

Their First Meeting for May—All Members Present—J. T. Mitchell Elected Solicitor for Three Years.

The semi-monthly session of the borough council was held on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock with President Keller in the chair and the following members present; Kirk, Shuey, Brown, Judge, Hamilton, Derstine, Wagner and Beezer.

The minutes for the previous meeting were read by the clerk, Mr. Kelley and there being no corrections they stood approved.

Chairman Derstine of the Street Committee reported cleaning and repairing streets and alleys.

Chairman Hamilton of Water Committee reported that they are relaying a six inch Water pipe out Willowbank street and down Reynolds Avenue.

Chairman Judge of the nuisance committee reported various nuisance in different parts of the town. A horse was left at Hock Toner's stable on Saturday night by parties unknown. The horse died and was buried at the expense of the boro.

Mr. Brown reported collecting $4.00 rent from the house on Logan street.

Burgess John I. Curtin reported as follows: "Since my last report have paid to W. H. Musser for office rent and police headquarters $44.00, for badges for Cheif of Police $1.30, caps for policeman $7.00, and the balance of $35 00 is here enclosed. This makes the total collected for fines etc $87.30." Council decided that the Burgess had no right to contract bills without consent of council and will so notify him.

Mr. L. T. Munson appeared before council to urge them to take some action in regard to changing the sewer which starts at the alleyway between Mrs. Louise Harris and the Gephart property. Mr. Munson desires to move the Gephart property back into the centre of the lot and the old sewer interferes with his foundation. The matter was discussed at length. The street committee to which the matter had been referred to at the last meeting had received bids for the sewer. The sewer will go out Burrow alley to Cherry alley and down to Lamb street. The sewer will cost about $1000.00. It was finally referred back to the Street committee to consult with the borough engineer and the property owners and report at a special meeting.

Dr. Kirk brought up the matter of the closing up of the other end of Smith street by the American Lime Stone Company The street crosses the Bellefonte Central tracks and ends at the old McCalmont office. The Lime company have built a new road along the Bellefonte Central track which is really better than the old one. Dr. Kirk however complained that on account of the trains it was dangerous. At the end of the old road the Lime company have built a crusher which leaves the boro without an outlet. The matter was referred to the Street committee to investigate and report.

Mr. Beezer complained in regard to the hucksters from the country peddling in Bellefonte without a license. It was referred to the Solicitor to investigate and report.

Mr. Shuey made a motion that pursuant to an act of assembly recently passed relating to Borough Solicitors, that J. Thos. Mitchell be elected Borough Solicitor for three years and give bond for faithful performance. The motion was seconded by Mr. Brown. It was opposed by Dr. Kirk and Mr. Wagner. Quite a lively discussion took place. Mr. Wagner moved the motion be laid on the table seconded by Kirk. The motion lost by a vote of 5 to 3. The original motion was then taken up and and Mr. Mitchell was elected by a vote of 7 to 1. Mr. Mitchel's term starts March 1st 1907, and he is to give bond in the sum of $500.00.

The Water Committee recommended the same Water rate as last year.

Residents of Bishop street east of Penn street asked for a sewer on that street. Referred to Street committee.

The walks in front of the Shoemaker properties on North Thomas street are in a bad condition and were so reported to council.

R. P. Miller & Son complained of the loafing in front of their store on Water street at nights and on Sunday. The police will be instructed to try and break this up and stop the annoyance.

The meter bills for water for the past quarter amounts to $825.00

Base Ball Saturday.

On Saturday the Williamsport High School base ball team played the Bellefonte Academy at the Meadowbrook park. The game was interesting and both teams showed good work. Fullerton of the Academy did well in striking out his men and added another victory to the credit of his school. The field was in a fearful shape for ball playing as the recent rain had made it very muddy and then a strong wind was blowing that caused it to be very unpleasant for the players. It is said the umpire made some very rank decisions in regards to fouls out in the left field and his unfairness caused the fellows on the side lines to root for the Williamsport team. Some of the fellows were called "traitors" and "cheap skates" and in fact it almost come to a rough and tumble scrap such as they often have at a foot ball game. But before any blood was shed or any one seriously injured the fighters got cooled down, and the game proceeded after an intermission of twenty minutes.

It may be true some of the fellows did not pay, and it would have looked better for them to have stayed out of the scrap, but on the other hand if the umpire was unfair, we don't blame them for telling him about it.

Only a few weeks ago a game of basket ball was played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, between the Dickinson Seminary team and our Y. M. C. A. team and during the game the boys from the Academy yelled continually for the Dickinson Seminary team. Did any one run up to them and call them "traitors" or "cheap skates?" No indeed. The score was 7-2 in favor of the Academy.

Bohn—Taylor.

On Tuesday at noon Mr. Charles E. Bohn of Lemont led Miss Marion M. Taylor to the altar and there made her his wife. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Cox at the Evangelical Manse on Willowbank street. The bridal couple left on the 1:25 train for eastern cities.

WAS'NT IT JUST LOVELY.

Everyone Seemed to Have Such a Splendid Time at the Armory.

These words seem to be the sentiment of all who attended the Shirt Waist Skate and Dance held at the Armory on Wednesday evening.

The affair being for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital no doubt was one reason why so many attended and then the untiring efforts of Mrs. Emil Joseph who has been working night and day for the past week in order to make this social function a success was another.

In order to make the Skate and Dance prove a success financially, Mrs. Joseph had posters printed and tickets sold throughout the town by young ladies. She went to State College and advertised the affair thoroughly at that town and had it [illegible] from the Chief ing at this institution. She certainly deserves a great deal of credit as she worked earnestly and faithfully through all.

Through the advertising at the college over one hundred and fifty students attended, and seemed to have had a royal time skating and dancing. The fun began as early as six thirty and lasted until almost midnight. During the evening Brown's ice cream cones filled with Ceader's delicious ice cream, candy, sandwiches, lemonade and other light refreshments were served and seemed to be greatly enjoyed by all.

A contest as to the most popular skater was held and the following young ladies participated Misses Moerschbacher, Orvis, Laurie, Gheritv, Jacobs, Brisben, Taylor, Harris and Crissman. Misses Laurie, Orvis, and Harris having a strong lead on the other young ladies the rest dropped out leaving just the three in the contest. Mrs. W. F. Reynolds had presented two and a half in gold to be used for any cause the ladies saw fit, so they utelized it in this manner, the young lady receiving the greatest number of votes was to receive the gold piece. The contest was to close at 10:30 and towards the last votes were chased in very fast. Miss Laurie was backed by Prof. Meyer, Miss Orvis by Maurice Jackson and Miss Harris by Mr. Isaac Mitchell and Dr. R. G. H. Hayes. Miss Laurie won out by a large majority.

In the contest for selling the greatest number of tickets Miss Moerschbacher carried off the prize, she received a handsome pair of long kid gloves given by Mrs. E. Joseph. Miss Moerschbacher sold forty-five dollars and seventy-five cents worth of tickets. She certainly is a little hustler and did exceedingly well in her department of the work.

At the close of this evenings pleasure the announcement was made as who received the different articles that had been chanced off by some of our business men. No. 115 held by Edward Hoy took the vest at Montgomery store. No. 20 held by Mr. C. A. Hogantuffer took the $5.00 box of cigars at the Brockerhoff House. No. 128 held by Mr. Randolph Hoy took the silk umbrella given by Joseph Brothers & Co. No. 194 held by Mr. Thomas Beaver took the pipe at Knisely Brothers cigar store.

The ladies who assisted Mrs. Joseph in this affair and who deserve a great deal of credit for the manner in which they helped make the occasion a grand success, were the following, Mrs. Ceaders, Mrs. Calloway, Mrs. Tate, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Hastings, Miss Blanchard, Miss Calderwood, Miss Brieben and Miss Nitzgar of State College. After all the expenses are paid the ladies expect to clear $200. This amount will be handed over to the Board of Directors of the Bellefonte Hospital and will likely go toward the Building Fund. Mrs. Joseph wishes to extend her sincere thanks to all who so earnestly assisted her in this affair.

Academy Notes.

"Bill" Louden the timid blushing youth of the Academy who reminds one of cupid is thinking of moving from the Frat house to the Hag via the back door.

Oh young Armstrong has come out of the west.
O! all the "Heart Smashers" he is the best.

One dark hazy day in the autumn of 1905 a youth with an expression as of the setting of the sun blew into the city which is situated on the seven hills. He arrived in the "world is all upside down" manner. Stepping up to one of the more intelligent looking loafers standing near the Union station he said; "My name's Armstrong can you direct me to the school of Bright Prospect." The young man whom he had addressed took his cigar from his mouth and replied "You mean the training school of J. C. L. or the School of Jealousies, Caresses and Love". The prospective college man answered "Naturally." This was sad for the fair maidens of the antique town which is named for its beautiful fountain many hearts are bleeding from the arrows which this young man from the Smoky City has let loose from the golden bow which he always carries with him.

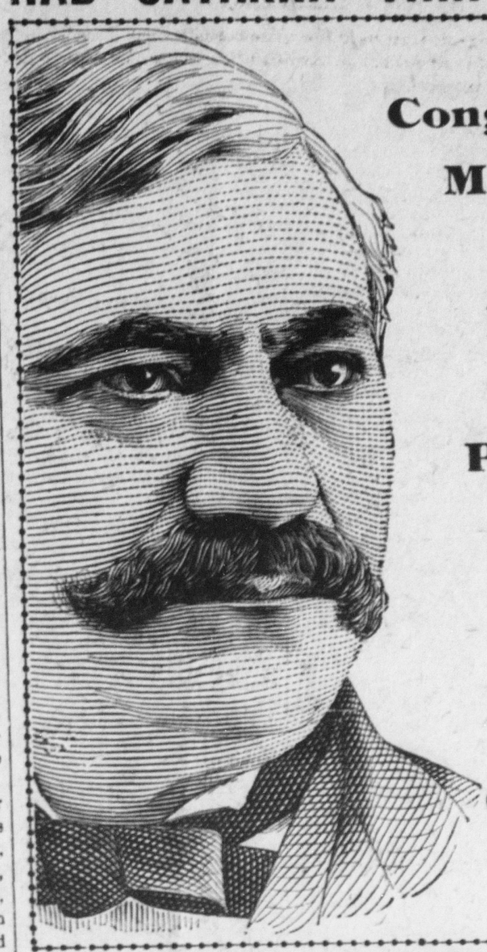
HAD CATARRH THIRTY YEARS.



Congressman Meekison Gives Praise To Pe-ru-na For His Relief From Catarrh.

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON COMMENDS PE-RU-NA.

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison.

OTHER REMARKABLE CURES.

Mr. Jacob L. Davis, Galena, Stone county, Mo., writes: "I have been in bad health for thirty-seven years, and after taking twelve bottles of your Peruna I am cured." Mr. A. E. Kidd, well-known architect, 5477 Jefferson Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have had catarrh over half of my life. I tried nearly every catarrh remedy advertised, beside a great many physicians' treatments, all of which failed. I had heard and read of Peruna and decided to try it. I have taken seven bottles of it and weigh 172 pounds."

A SINCERE RECOMMENDATION.

Mr. D. C. Prosser, R. F. D. No. 2, Shelby, Oceana Co., Mich., writes: "Two years ago I was badly afflicted with catarrh of the stomach. I had had a run of typhoid fever, was very depleted. I could find nothing I could eat without causing distress and sour stomach. Finally I came to the conclusion that I had catarrh of the stomach and seeing Peruna advertised, began to take it. It helped me soon, and after taking three or four bottles I was entirely cured of stomach trouble, and can now eat anything."

MARRIED BY REV. COX.

Miss Sarah McKinley Becomes the Wife of Homer Thompson.

On Wednesday evening at nine o'clock Miss Sarah H. McKinley was married to Mr Homer Thompson at the mance on Willowbank street.

After Rev. Cox said the words that made the happy young couple man and wife they were driven to the Thompson home north of Bellefonte where an excellent wedding dinner was served. The wedding was a very quiet affair as only their immediate friends were present. Homer is employed at Lyon's automobile works and has hosts of friends in the old town. Miss McKinley will make him a splendid wife as she possesses all the qualities that a good house keeper needs. We wish them joy and peace through life.

Hal Merton Coming.

Hal Merton the Magician, Ventriloquist and all around entertainer, will be at the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Saturday at 2:30 and Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Merton comes to Bellefonte highly recommended and we sincerely hope the citizens will turn out and greet him with a crowded house. The price of admission to adults is 25 cents. Two children are admitted for 25 cents. Saturday afternoon and evening.

The Exposition In Art.

Nothing that has appeared in recent years has attracted as much favorable attention and happy comment as the series of Biederman paintings of the historic Jamestown Exposition at Norfolk. Life-like color reproduction of these paintings, on plate paper, size 10x15, are being given with the New York Sunday World. The picture is worth framing.

The Game Friday.

The base ball game scheduled for Friday May 10, promises to be the greatest treat that the people of Bellefonte will be afforded this season. The entire State Varsity team will be here and a very fast, snappy game is booked for. Either Lynch or Voorhes will pitch for the collegians and Fullerton the star Academy pitcher and Harry Otto the well known catcher will be the battery for Bellefonte. This game is for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital and should be attended by every person in town. Every one should turn out and show their appreciation for this worthy institution and the work accomplished by it in the past. It is something everyone should boost and help. Don't sit back but go to the game and make a noise.

Indications point to a fast snappy game and a record breaking crowd, everybody says they are going so don't be the only one to stay at home. Remember this is a benefit game. The college boys have generously offered their help, so don't let the town people be out done by the students. The Bellefonte nine will be selected from the following team and Academy players, Otto, Gephart, Scott, Lingle, Fullerton, Rollins, Moore, Mitchell, Whetstone, Grubb, Oberlin, Jacobs, Louden and Tompkins.

Kerns—Morrison.

On Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock Miss Jane Morrison became the wife of Harry B. Kerns. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Allison Platts at the Presbyterian manse. It was a very quiet affair but both of the young people are just as happy as though it were a big church wedding that costs hundreds of dollars. A reception will be held at the brides home on Howard street tonight. Mr. Kerns is employed by the Bellefonte cemetery association and has hosts of friends in our town. His wife is a lady who understands the fundamental principals of housekeeping and will be a true devoted help mate through life. After the ceremony the young couple were serenaded by the Logan Fire Company of which he is a prominent member.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

Charles Lloyd Son of the Late Robt. Lloyd in a Fit of Dispondency Shoots Himself Through the Head.

Charles Lloyd, a former resident of Philipsburg, well known throughout this entire section of country, and a son of the late Robert Lloyd, deceased, committed suicide Monday night about 11 o'clock at his farm home near Hagerty's Cross Roads, not far from Beccaria. The crime is supposed to have been committed in a fit of despondency as a result of poor health, a condition he is known to have been in for some time. He resorted to a room alone and placing the revolver in his mouth, fired the fatal shot, which resulted virtually in instant death. His wife, hearing the shot, rushed into the room, and was horrified at seeing her husband lying before her in the last throes of the death struggle.

The deceased, who was aged about 58 years, on Friday last sold his farm to George Fitch, of Beccaria, and expected in a short time to locate in Bellwood, where, we understand, he was about to erect a new home. He was twice married, his first wife dying about three years ago, marrying his second wife, who survives, about, one year ago. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Edward Braidin, of Tyrone, and the following half sisters and brothers, viz: Mrs. George Morrison, of Jersey Shore; Mrs. Will Tyson, of Tyrone; Mrs. Ida Church, Cape May, N. J.; William, of Philipsburg, and Harry, of Philadelphia.

—"No young man can build a strong, sturdy character," said Rev. Parr of Lock Haven in his Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday to the High School graduates, "without being industrious. I have never found the man or woman who is truly industrious but that they can find something to do. The son of God was no idler, and his life of industry is a noble example for us. Young men and young women, if you would be useful and happy and would grow upward, be industrious. Industry has brought you to the place you occupy today, and the same industry will bring you to higher, nobler things. If you couple industry with brains and "sand," you are bound to succeed."

—Hal Merton, magician, ventriloquist and entertainer. The man who makes you laugh, will appear in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Saturday May 11th at 2:30 and 8 p. m. This will be one of the best entertainments given this season and the only one of its kind that has appeared here. Come and bring the children. Tickets 25 cents. Each ticket will admit one adult or two children.

In Memoriam.

Jesse G. Lucas died at Brown Mills, Burlington Co., N. J., Thursday evening April 25 after five weeks illness from causes incident to old age. He was aged 73 years, was born at Snow Shoe, Centre Co. Pa., reared, and spent his entire life there except the past year and half resided in N. J. He served faithfully four years in Civil War. He was a good neighbor, kind father, and respected citizen. In 1865 he married Miss Mary Webner, of Nittany, Pa., who preceded him to the grave nearly nine years ago. Eight grown children, four sons and four daughters survive him. He was buried from the M. E. church, at Snow Shoe, Sunday afternoon April 28, followed by many old comrades and friends.

An Excursion from the College

On Friday an excursion will be run from the Pennsylvania State College for the base ball game at the Meadow Brook Park. The round trip will be 75 cents. No doubt a great many of the students will take advantage of this cheap rate and have a holiday and come to Bellefonte. The game of ball promises to be a good one and will be worth the price of admission.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

There is no such thing as a secret.

A reasonable probability is the only certainty.

Men who have violated the law say it is not hard to do.

Romance is like fire—if you play with it you are liable to be burned.

There is too little attention given to two mighty important words, "Don't tell."

It is a bad plan to seek to make a good impression by following every statement with an apology.

The trouble is when we do things for our friends we do things we want to instead of what they would be pleased to have us do.

We can't understand why people try to deceive others, but cannot understand why they should try to deceive themselves, as so many seem to do—Atchison Globe.

When Musicians Were Scarce.

In these days of conservatories and music schools, when each house has its piano or its organ, to say nothing of devotees to the cornet, violin and banjo, it seems strange to assert that there ever was a time when musicians were in demand, yet such was really the case. "In the fifteenth century," says Mr. Henry M. Brooks in his "Olden Time Music," "musicians were so scarce in England that they were impressed by government order, as in more recent times seamen had to suffer in like manner. Henry VIII. also issued warrants for the impressment of children with good voices for the choirs of the cathedrals, and in Elizabeth's time children with the proper qualification for her majesty's choirs were taken from their parents without any compensation being given to the latter."

Weighing Common Air.

The weight of air has often been tested by compressing it in receptacles by the air pump. That it really has weight when so compressed is shown by the fact that the weight of the vessels is increased slightly by filling them with compressed air and that such vessels become specifically "lighter" as soon as the air contained in them is exhausted. Many elaborate experiments on the weight of air have proved that one cubic foot weighs 536 grains, or something less than one and a quarter ounces. The above experiment on the weight of air is supposed to be made at the surface of the earth with the temperature at 50 degrees F. Heated air, or air at high elevations, is much lighter.

The "Pull" and the Job.

Business men are constantly being pestered by young men who seek positions through letters of recommendation, often in the form of personal requests from fellow business men. One may well question whether these letters have any great "pulling" power after all. The Saturday Evening Post tells of such an instance. After being very politely dismissed by several managers with the stereotyped expression that there was not a vacancy at present, the young man tore up the letters and went back to the place last visited.

"What can I do for you now?" the manager asked in an annoyed tone.

"Pardon me," said the young man, "but I've just torn up those letters. Could you give me a job on my own hook?"

The manager looked amused and said: "We need a young fellow to chip castings in the machine shop at $6 a week. If you like, you can have that until something better turns up."

"Yes, sir," replied the job hunter. "I'm ready now."

Queen Sophia and Bismarck.

Queen Sophia of the Netherlands, the first wife of King William III. of Holland, was too great a friend of Emperor Napoleon III., the Empress Eugenie and of France generally to take kindly to Bismarck. Before the big war of 1870 and probably some time after the Luxembourg squabble there was an international exhibition in Amsterdam, which the queen visited. She was conducted over the whole place by the committee, and as they came to a certain section one of the members said, "Now your majesty will see the greatest enemy of Germany." "Ah, Bismarck!" she cried, with some glee. The members stood aghast and never repeated this rash exclamation. The "greatest enemy" he had to exhibit was not, of course, Bismarck at all, but only a very much enlarged reproduction of either the phylloxera or the Colorado beetle, which at that time did a great deal of harm to German agriculture.—Westminster Gazette.

"Pull" the New Society Game.

Though many ardent bridge players are reserving their decision as to the merits of the new pastime, a little game called "pull" has caught society's fancy on the other side of the ocean, so it seems to find adherents in this democratic land, says the New York Press. It is two handed whist, and it comes in handy when enough time killers cannot be found to get up a real game. It is surprising how heavy the gambling may be even with only two persons at a table.

Insulting.

"I'm not going to that female barber shop again. There's a rude girl there, don't you know." "What did she say?" "Why, she looked at my mustawsh and awsked me if I would have it sponged off or rubbed in."

The true strength of every human soul is to be dependent on as many nobler as it can discern and to be depended upon by as many inferior as it can reach.—Ruskin.

IN SEARCH OF HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Fetzer Goes to Williamsport in Answer to a Telephone message.

Mrs. George M. Fetzer, who resides near Runville, Centre county, arrived in Williamsport Saturday evening expecting to find her husband, who dissapeared from his home more than a month ago, but she was doomed to dissappointment. The mysterious disappearance of Mr. Fetzer, the thorough search that has been made for him and the peculiar circumstances which led the almost heartbroken wife to come to Williamsport are unusual in the extreme. Chief Evans has interested himself in the search for the missing man and has received some information that may lead to locating him. A sister of the missing man, Mrs. A. E. Crawford, resides at No 600 Hepburn, this city, and a daughter, Mrs. George Huyck, resides at No. 812 Poplar street, Newberry.

Mr. Fetzer disappeared from his home nearly five weeks ago. During the day he had gone to the mountain to get some sassafras root, and returning with it placed it on the porch of the house. That was the last seen of him, by any of his family or friends. He disappeared as completely and mysteriously as though the earth had opened and swallowed him. Hundreds of men have searched the mountains in that vicinity in the belief that he had met with some accident but not a trace of the missing man could be found.

A strange feature of the case occured during the past week. On Wednesday a telephone message was received by Mrs. Fetzer to the effect that her husband was in a Williamsport hospital seriously ill. She at once communicated with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Crawford, in this city, and the latter went to the hospital, but her brother was not there. On Thursday Mrs. Fetzer received a second message which also stated that her husband was in a Williamsport hospital. Both messages were received by a merchant at Runville and through him sent to Mrs. Fetzer. After receiving the second message she decided to come to Williamsport and search for her husband. Arriving here she consulted with Chief Evans and the latter at once started an investigation.

Inquiry was made at the hospital and at sanitariums, but at none of them was a patient answering the description of Mr. Fetzer. The chief then endevored to find out who sent the telephone message to Runville and soon learned that no message had been sent from that city. A further investigation will be made to locate the person who did the telephoning. It is possible a mistake was made in the name of the place and that Mr. Fetzer really is in a hospital in some city. He is about sixty five years of age.

Mrs. Fetzer went to Newberry this morning to the home of her daughter.

Looking For a Parsonage

A committee of the Centre District of the United Evangelic church held a meeting Tuesday at the Evangelical Church on Willowbank street to decide on a location for a district parsonage for their Presiding Elder. Rev. Cox of Bellefonte is anxious to have this the home of the presiding elder while Mifflinburg is making a great effort to have that place the headquarters. The district comprises, Centre, Union, Snyder, Mifflin, Juniata, and Blair counties. The committee on location are the following gentlemen, C. H. Lucas, Centre Hall; Rev. S. E. Koontz, Winfield; Rev. J. T. Shultz, Bellwood; J. S. Frain, Jacksonville and Rev. J. C. Reeser, Carlisle.

$20,00 For Each Post.

The Center County Commissioners have voted to give $20,00 to each Grand Army Post through out the Country to help defray their Memorial Day expenses. This will pay some posts expenses while places like CentreHall, Philipsburg, Howard, and Bellefonte it will not. The Decoration Day expenses in Bellefonte will amount to nearly $100.

Dr. Geo. Arney Dead.

Dr George F. Arney, for many years one of the best known physicians in Altoona, with residence and office at 1118 Seventh avenue, died at a Philadelphia hospital Friday morning. He had been in failing health for the past two years and on March 15 was taken to Philadelphia for treatment. He seemed to improve for a time, but several days ago he took a turn for the worse. His son, Ralph Arney, was with him when the end came.

Dr. George F. Arney was a son of Jacob and Rachel Arney, deceased, and was born in Centre Hall, Centre County, on March 11, 1853. He spent his boyhood days at Centre Hall and received his literary education in the Normal school in Pennsylvania. When he was a young man he decided upon the medical profession as a life's career. He read medicine with Dr. Neff, of Centre Hall, and Dr. C. F. Fisher, of Boalsburg, Pa., after which he entered and graduated from Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia, in 1878. Immediately after graduation he located at Homer City, where he remained but one year, coming to Altoona in 1879, since which time he had made Altoona his residence. He built up a large practice but several years ago he gave up his general practice and devoted himself to the treatment of the eye, nose, throat and ear, meeting with success as a specialist. On the account of ill health he had practically lived retired for the past couple years. He was at one time a member of the staff of the Altoona hospital.

He was quiet and unassuming in his disposition, but ever cheerful with his friends, by whom he was esteemed and respected. He was a member of Christ Reformed church. He was politically independent and took but little interest in political affairs.

Dr. Arney was married in 1881 to Miss Lucy Boggs of Altoona, who survives with one son, Ralph. He is also survived by five brothers and six sisters, as follows: John, Benjamin, Charles, and Frank Arney, of Potter township, Centre county; Rev. W. James Arney, of Kane, Pa.; Mrs. Sarah Dasher, of Kalamazoo, Mich.; Mrs. Minnie Richards, of Potter township; Mrs. Lydia Peck, of Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. Mary Herring, of Altoona; Mrs. Laura Lee of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Lizzie Mullen, of Renova. The body was brought to this city at 7:20 o'clock Saturday morning and conveyed to his home.

The funeral which was strickly private took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, interment at Oak Ridge cemetery.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood, instead of being removed from the body daily as nature intended. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills, liver pills. All vegetable.

Reckless Driving.

Considerable complaint is made regarding the carless driving that is done on High street and other thoroughfares by some of the local horsemen. Some of them appear to think that pedestrians when they walk across the streets should wait until they pass by with their horses. A word to theis class might enlighten them and save them some trouble, as pedestrians in all cases have the right of way.

Register's Notices.

Stories Told of Prominent Men.

FEODOR GOLOVIN.

FEODOR GOLOVIN, president of the second Russian douma, has a post of exceptional responsibility. Should the members of the douma follow such a course as to prevent an early dissolution of the body and yet effect needed reforms the threatened revolution may be averted. To guide the douma through the difficulties lying before it is no easy task. President Golovin has had a career which gives his colleagues hope that he may prove equal to the emergency. He is forty years old and is a man of energy who through a long continued reign of turbulence has managed to hold the confidence of the people. He was president of the Moscow zemstvo during the regime of the Grand Duke Sergius, who was asssassinated and who was one of the foremost reactionaries of the court circle.

M. Golovin is a Constitutional Democrat and represents Moscow in the douma. Though his party has only 100 members in that body, he received 331 votes for president because the more radical factions united on him instead of supporting the candidate of the conservatives, who received only ninety-one votes. President Golovin was treated with cordiality when he was received in audience by Emperor Nicholas, a fact that has given hope to those who look for some good results from the work of the present Russian parliament.

Winthrop Murray Crane, the junior senator from Massachusetts, was toasted at a dinner in Boston recently as "the next president of the United States." Governor Guild, in speaking of the suggestion in a speech following this toast, remarked, "Massachusetts may again have not merely a vice president like Wilson, but a president, as in the days of the Adamses."

SENATOR W. M. CRANE.

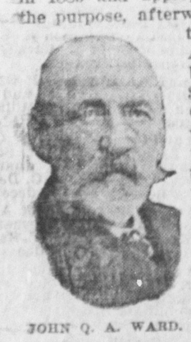
At Washington Senator Crane is coming to be known as the best "mixer" in the upper branch of congress. He is credited with being very clever in bringing about his plans or carrying a point without giving offense.

One of his friends is Senator Piles of Washington. Piles is a new member. One day Crane heard that Piles intended to make a set speech. He gumshoed up to Piles' desk, which is on the rear row on the Republican side, and said:

"Piles, I hear Senator Flint is going to make a speech. Now, you and Flint are from the Pacific coast, the same part of the country, you know. You go to Flint and tell him it will be folly for him to begin talking so soon. Tell him he wants to observe the unwritten law and sit quietly until he gets warm in his chair. Of course I know he will make a good speech, but you will agree with me that it is better for him to refrain for a time, and you can tell him with the utmost propriety."

Piles got red and bit his lips, but he didn't make a speech.

Nearly nineteen years have elapsed since the Society of the Army of the Cumberland determined upon the erection of a statue of General Philip H. Sheridan in Washington. Congress authorized the erection of such a statue in 1889 and appropriated $40,000 for the purpose, afterward adding $10,000 to this amount. The Army of the Cumberland raised about $5,000, making $55,000 altogether which was made available for the expense of the statue. The commission for executing the work was given to the dean of the American fraternity of sculptors, John Q. A. Ward, and he has been engaged upon it for about fifteen years. He hoped that the statue would prove his masterpiece and has submitted several models, only to have them rejected by the committee. He did execute one model that satisfied the committee, but, curiously enough, that did not satisfy Mr. Ward himself, and he destroyed it. Mrs. Sheridan, widow of the general, says the likeness of her husband in the latest Ward model is not a good one. The contract with Mr. Ward for the execution of the work has at last been canceled. Two statues of great men by this sculptor, those of Garfield and General Thomas, now ornament the city of Washington, and he intended that the Sheridan statue should surpass them both.



JOHN Q. A. WARD.

Mr. Ward will be seventy-seven in June. Last July he surprised his friends by taking a third wife. Among his best known works are the statue of Washington in front of the subtreasury, New York; the statue of Beecher in front of the borough hall, Brooklyn, and an idealistic piece entitled "The Indian Hunter."

Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of the American Review of Reviews, is one of the scholars, writers and students of practical affairs with whom President Roosevelt often compares notes. Upon to the football team of the University of Pennsylvania. It was he who invented the "guardsback" play which brought fame to this eleven.

As the Jamestown exposition is held in a state so noted for its hospitality as Virginia, it is natural that social functions and occasions to which the hand of welcome is to be extended should loom prominent in the programme. Much responsibility for the successful outcome of such affairs will rest upon the graceful shoulders of Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, the beautiful wife of the governor of Virginia. She was Miss Elizabeth Lyons, daughter of the late Judge D. Peter Lyons of Richmond, and she is a niece of Justice Lamar of the United States supreme court. It was at the latter's home that she married Governor Swanson ten years ago. He was a member of congress at that time and for several years thereafter, so that Mrs. Swanson has seen much of Washington life. She is one of three handsome sisters who were belles for some years previous to marriage, and their mother, Mrs. Addie Deane Lyons, who died about two years ago, was famous in her day, too, as a beauty. Mrs. Swanson is an artist, and the walls of her home are decorated with specimens of her skill.

MRS. CLAUDE SWANSON.

Congressman James S. Sherman, who figured in the now historic Roosevelt-Harriman episode, was concerned in the case because of his position as chairman of the Republican congressional committee, in charge of campaign work for the Republican party by members of that party in congress. The representative from New York was absent from the United States on the congressional trip to Panama when the Roosevelt-Harriman incident occurred and on landing in New York refused to be interviewed. It was said he had obtained a tip by wireless from some one who signed himself "J. O." that silence would be golden. Ten years ago Mr. Sherman and the late Speaker Reed were great friends. He was talked of as successor to Reed in the speaker's chair when the latter retired from congress. It was a saying in Washington at the time that he could handle the house from the chairman's post of authority to better advantage than any man but the great Maine statesman himself.

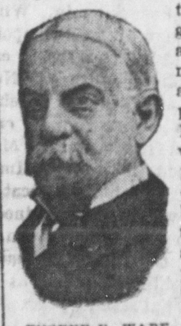
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

Representative James R. Mann of Illinois is absentminded, so much so that it bothers him a great deal.

"I can't explain it," he told Representative Henry S. Boutell, "but it worries me a great deal."

"Oh, you're not absentminded," Boutell said. "An absentminded man is one who thinks he has left his watch at home and then pulls it out of his pocket to see if he has time enough to go home and get it."

There are many old soldiers who are entitled to pensions who have never made application for them because they do not wish to take advantage of the bounty of the government so long as they possess means of their own ample for their support. Among these Eugene F. Ware, well known by his pen name of Ironquill has hitherto been numbered. Although he served as commissioner of pensions and attached his signature to thousands of pensions for others, he would not take one for himself. He maintained that he did not believe in such assistance except for old soldiers in actual need of the government's aid. But since the passage of the service pension bill Mr. Ware has made a request for a pension.



EUGENE F. WARE.

In applying for the $12 a month to which he is entitled he wrote that he had never expected to ask for any favor of the kind, but that there is a little girl in Topeka whose brother is a soldier in the Philippines and is her sole support. "I am going to take this pension in my own name because I can't get it in her name," he wrote, "and turn it over to her."

Deputy Commissioner Davenport said it was the best excuse he had ever heard and at once sent the letter back to Ware with the request that the application and explanation be submitted in verse, for which Ware is noted. Meanwhile there will be no delay about approving the pension.

"Pull" the New Society Game.

Though many ardent bridge players are reserving their decision as to the merits of the new pastime, a little game called "pull" has caught society's fancy on the other side of the ocean, so it seems to find adherents in this democratic land, says the New York Press. It is two handed whist, and it comes in handy when enough time killers cannot be found to get up a real game. It is surprising how heavy the gambling may be even with only two persons at a table.

A Statement from the W. C. T. U.

There appeared in the columns of a local newspaper an article in which it was stated that Mr. From had written a letter to the Bellefonte W. C. T. U. "stating that his wife was so sick and starving and pleading for money to purchase for her the necessaries she needed." The person or persons who supplied the newspaper with such an interesting piece of information must be endowed with great powers of imagination (or exaggeration). The The W. C. T. U. at no time received a letter from this man asking for relief. The writer has been doing some evangelistic work at the Jail and on the occasion of a visit in this capacity two weeks ago asked Mr. From if there was anything we could do for his sick wife, as almost any human or christian person might do. His reply was 'It is needed now" not stating specifically the form of that need, adding that "a girl was needed to do the housework." The matter was mentioned by the writer to a few who we thought might be interested but was told that Mr. From was "well-off." We supposed this closed the incident but what was our surprise when the matter stared us in the face from the columns of the said newspaper. That it should become a thing of much publicity and in such an exaggerated form is a matter of regret. In justice to Mr. From and in the cause of truth and veracity this statement is submitted.

MRS. W. H. SPANGLER.

This is the article this statement has reference to clipped from the other newspaper.

"In the meantime Mr. From is spending his time as best he can in his cell in the jail. He evinces considerable worriment over the condition of his wife and even went so far about three weeks ago as to write a letter to the Bellefonte W. C. T. U. in which he stated that his wife was so sick and starving and pleading for money to purchase for her what necessaries she needed. That Mr. From must have been laboring under a great nervous strain when he wrote the letter is evidenced from the fact that it is no secret that Mrs. From has money enough in bank in her own name to keep her very comfortably for a year or two, while Mr. From, it is said, also has a bank account. And in addition, their property at Centre Hall is worthy anywhere from fifteen hundred to two thousand dollars. Mrs. From, it can be said, is being very well and tenderly cared for, her two sisters taking turns in nursing her, while the housekeeping affairs are being looked after by a competent girl, so that the people of Centre county need have no qualms of conscience over the incarceration of Mr. From so far as his wife getting along is concerned."

Have a Right to Exclude.

The supreme court of the United States has decided that the manager of a theater is not a public servant in the same sence that a hotel proprietor is. It adds that he has a right to sell tickets of admission to wouldbe customers or to refuse to sell. No man can compel the theater manager to admit him. He may recover the price of the ticket purchased, but that is all.

This decision was rendered in a case brought by a Federal soldier who had been expelled from a certain theater. He held that he was put out because he wore the uniform. The theater manager did not deny the allegation, but rested on his right to determine the character and personality of his patrons. The court sustained his contention, declaring that the uniform confers no special rights upon its wearer.

Some of the proprietors of places of amusement insist that they have been compelled to adopt the rule which excludes sailors and soldiers in uniform because of the misconduct and rowdyism of many wearers of that uniform. They dislike to have their places of entertainment made the scenes of disturbances which would deter respectable people from attending and they have reluctantly adopted the rule which the highest court in the land now affirms to be quite within their legal rights.

Daughter of William Speer.

Miss Drusilla Speer, daughter of E. M. Speer cashier of the Firt National Bank, of Hoxie Kansas, recently won laurels for herself in an oratorical contest including speakers from all over Sheridian Co. She was given third prize although the large audience was unanimous in sentiment that she should have had the 2nd prize. It was the first time that Miss Drusilla ever tried to write an oration, although her contestants had taken part in a number of contests. "The Hoxie Sentinel" say: "Miss Speer did exceptionally well and she had the large audience with her from start to finish." The young lady with the balance of the family were visitors in Bellefonte about four years ago stopping at the residence of her grand-father, Ex-County Treasurer W. T. Speer, on High street. Although young she was exceptionally bright, and while here made many warm friends.

Deafness Cannot b Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Was she a Detective?

A bit of gossip is afloat. It is to the effect that the very attentive Miss Rearick was in the employment of a Philadelphia detective agency while in Centre Hall, and that while she was most tenderly attending to the wants of Mrs. From under the guise of a nurse she was really searching for evidence against her husband to convict him of the murder of Mr. Dale. The young lady certainly worked herself into the graces of those in the From home without a particle of suspicion.—Centre Hall Reporter.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to purify and enrich the blood.

Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppurating, or running, sores and puts them in the best possible condition for healing.

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for all open, running, or suppurating, Sores or Ulcers. For healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed.

If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive it by return post.

In treating all open sores, or ulcers, boils carbuncles and other swellings, it is important that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery be taken persistently to purify the blood and thereby remove the cause of the trouble. It is in the blood that the great battle of health has to be fought. The ulcer and the sore are simply the scarlet flowers of disease, with roots running down into the blood. These roots must be eradicated or the disease will break out afresh. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood of all foul and poisonous accumulations, pushes out the dead and waste matter, and thus purifies the entire life current. Disease in the flesh must die out when it is no longer fed by foul blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" effectively cures disease in the flesh by curing its cause in the blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter rising after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid, or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and its attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editoral staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica), which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator. * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhea (surpressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root another promiment ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all suffering incident to acute kidney trouble.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time.

Big Base Ball Game May 10th.

On Friday of this week, May 10th, the people of Bellefonte and Centre county will have an opportunity to see what is expected to prove one of the best baseball games of the season in this section. It will be between the Bellefonte team and the State College 'Varsity nine, and will be played on the grounds on Meadowbrook park in this place. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the pathological department of the Bellefonte hospital and this in itself ought to result in everybody in Bellefonte and surrounding community attending. It will be remembered that last season there was a hospital benefit game between Watsontown and Bellefonte and the result was the realization of a neat sum This year the attendance should be much larger, owing to the unusual interest felt by everybody in the success of both the State College and Bellefonte teams. The College team has been playing an unusually fast game this year and so far has met with only one defeat, and it is this same fast team that will be pitted against the Bellefonte team on May 10th. The entire makeup of the Bellefonte team has not yet been announced but it is known that Fullerton, the crack Bellefonte Academy pitcher, will be in the box.

Either the Coleville or Undine band will be secured for the afternoon and the event is to be made one of the biggest in the sporting line to be held in Bellefonte this summer. While the stores will not be asked to close the proprietors will be requested to permit their employees to go and see the game. The prize of admission will be but twenty-five cents and the game will be well worth it.

Asking for a Pardon.

Because he is dying of consumption in the Western penitentiary, where he has been a prisoner for the last three years, friends of William H. Buterbaugh are asking for a pardon from the state board of pardons. The case of Buterbaugh was a sensational one and aroused considerable interest at the time of the trial. Buterbaugh conducted a store in Johnstown and had the stock insured for a great deal more than its value. At the trial it was brought out he had hired his brother-in-law, one Sowers, to set fire to the the place at $50, and the latter in turn hired a negro for $25. The Moxham fire company was too quick in responding and the place was only badly damaged. The circumstances were so suspicious that an investigation was made and resulted in the arrest of Buterbaugh and Sowers, and they are now both in prison.

Found In The Water

That a baby should float down a river alive is unusual, and when it was rescued the infant was in the bushes like Moses.

The baby, a boy apparently but a few weeks old, was fished from the creek north of Ellington a few nights ago by the children of John Ashbury, a farmer The boy was wrapped in a quilt and strapped to an improvised raft.

The family into whose hands the infant fell is religious and the story of Moses is vividly recalled.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and the address, Binghampon, N. Y. on every bottle.

Great Pigeon Cities In the Swamps.

Each spring in May all the rosy gulls of a wide region somehow agree to resort to a particular one of various marshy lakes for the purpose of rearing their young. Just how they decide the important question is not for us humans to know. At any rate, what they do select is a great area of grass, reeds or rushes growing out of the water, and there, out of the abundance of dry stems, each pair builds a partly floating nest, side by side with others, thousands upon thousands of them. These great "cities" of the prairie pigeon present one of the most dramatic, spectacular sights in the bird life of this continent, comparable in a way to the former breeding "roosts" of the real wild pigeon.—Herbert K. Job in Outing Magazine.

Are Women's Watches Inferior?

"Yes, madam," said the jeweler, showing watches to a woman customer, "this is a sixteen point action, the best that is ever put in a lady's watch."

"Don't you put just as good works in a lady's watch as in a gentleman's?" asked the woman.

"Why, no, not at all, madam. Ladies do not need such a good watch. Most always they wind up their watch once in awhile, and then they let it be for a week or two without using it. This is as good as any lady needs."

The woman explained that she was a business woman and just as dependent on trains and boats as a man, but the jeweler remained unmoved in the conviction that sixteen point was all any woman needed.—San Francisco Call.

Italy's Leaning Towers.

Most gleaners of the wonderful consider the leaning tower of Pisa to be something unique in architecture. This is an error, however, for there are two others in Italy and several in other European cities. The two at Bologna are the most remarkable. One of them is 321 feet in height and leans over six and a half feet from the perpendicular, and the other is 161 feet high and has "a lean" of over nine feet. The oldest of these two remarkable structures was built in the year 1110.

Flies.

The astonishing abundance of flies during the latter part of the summer is accounted for by the estimate made by an eminent entomologist that the progeny of a single house fly in the course of one summer will number 2,080,320. If it were not for the innumerable enemies provided by nature for the destruction of the fly, the whole air would be filled by the end of August with swarms of flies, which would render life insupportable.

Advantages of Madness.

The truth is, I fear, that madness has a great advantage over sanity. Sanity is always careless. Madness is always careful. There is a great deal of falsehood in the notion that truth must necessarily prevail. There is this falsehood to start with—that if a man has got the truth he is generally happy. And if he is happy he is generally lazy. The incessant activity, the exaggerated intelligence, generally belong to those who are a little wrong and just a little right. The whole advantage of those who think that Bacon wrote Shakespeare, says Gilbert J. Chesterton, writing in the Illustrated London News, lies simply in the fact that they care whether Bacon wrote Shakespeare. The whole disadvantage of those who do not think it lies in the fact that they do not care about it. The sane man who is sane enough to see that Shakespeare wrote Shakespeare is the man who is sane enough not to worry whether he did or not.

The Crafty Brother.

A man had two sons. The elder was virtuous and dutiful, the younger wicked and crafty. When the father was about to die, he called them before him and said: "I have only two things of value—my herd of camels and my blessing. How shall I allot them?"

"Give to me," said the younger son, "thy blessing, for it may reform me. The camels I should be sure to sell and squander the money."

The elder, disguising his joy, said that he would try to be content with the camels and a pious mind. It was so arranged, and the man died. Then the wicked younger son went before the cadi and said: "Behold, my brother has defrauded me of my lawful heritage. He is so bad that our father, as is well known, denied him his blessing. Is it likely that he gave him the camels?"

So the elder brother was compelled to give up the herd and was soundly bastinadoed for his rapacity.

Spoiled.

"Publishers insist on spoiling a great many manuscripts, don't they?" said the literary young woman.

"Undoubtedly," answered the bookseller. "A lot of 'em look a heap better typewritten and tied up with a ribbon than they do in print."—Washington Star.

All That Saved Him.

"Yes, sir, he was obliged to go in the snake country, so he took a gallon of Georgia corn along with him."

"And how did he make out?"

"Splendid! Got so full and wabbled so the snakes missed him every time they struck at him!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Only One Objection.

Some sage said that "life would be tolerable if it were not for its amusements." Many people give most cordial assent to this dictum. No objection can justly be made to it except that it is not true.—London Saturday Review.

Better Cigar Values at Lower Prices Than Ever Sold Before

Exclusive Brands; Unvarying Quality; Proper Condition

NATIONAL CIGAR STANDS

Important News for Smokers

Here's the National Cigar Stands' Proposition

Some 2,000 American druggists (the undersigned included in the number), have united in a new plan for conducting the cigar branch of their business.

Heretofore, each store has bought its cigars independently; usually from jobbers and in quantities necessarily small. The prices paid were loaded with from four to six unnecessary profits and were always on a small-quantity basis besides.

Now, these 2,000 stores have concentrated their cigar-buying power in a single, co-operative concern—the National Cigar Stands Company. These 2,000 stores and the National Cigar Stands Company which must provide them with cigars, becomes the largest single customer for tobacco ever known in the history of the cigar business.

Constitute The Greatest Retail Cigar Outlet On Earth

SOME N. C. S. EXCLUSIVE BRANDS

Unequaled in Quality for Price in the History of Cigar Retailing!

Black & White:	equal to best 3 for 25c. seed-and-Havana	5c
College Days:	best domestic cigar ever sold at	6 for 25c
Adad	a first-class domestic cigar, presenting superior workmanship	7 for 25c
Lord Carver:	best Havana-Sumatra cigar ever made	3 for 25c
Cuba-Roma:	all clear Havana, usually sold at 3 for 25c.	5c
La Idalia:	choice clear Havana—a wide favorite at	3 for 25c
El Carvajal:	highest grade imported Havana	10c and up

The commercial advantage of a large purchasing power is well-known. The National Cigar Stands Company takes at once a masterful position in the tobacco market. It can, and does, own its own brands, control its own factories, make its own prices. In all this it merely acts for the druggists who own it, and each store gets the full benefit of all the advantages acquired and all the savings effected.

The saving in manufacturing and buying is almost equaled in the saving in selling expense. The distribution from producer to retailer being direct, there is no expense for jobbers or traveling salesmen. There is little or no rent to be charged on the prices of cigars by National stands and no extra salaries for salespeople.

In brief, the cigars come to the National stands freed of all middlemen's profits and can be sold practically free of expense. Between producer and smoker there are but two small profits instead of the usual four to six big ones. The result of this double saving is that

Never Before Have Cigars Been Sold So Close to Cost of Production

The proof of this will be found in the cigars now offered for sale. They give a quality never before known at the prices asked. The brands are all the exclusive production of, by and for the National Cigar Stands. Let them speak for themselves.

All National Stands are equipped with a new and scientifically designed storage case which constantly and automatically maintains the proper atmospheric conditions necessary to keep the cigars at their best.

It isn't a National Cigar Stand unless the National's emblem is in the window.

The Great Bustard.

The great bustard is the rarest bird that comes under the head of game. This bird formerly haunted all the level counties of England and was particularly common on Salisbury plain. From the reign of Henry VIII. repeated measures were passed in order to protect it, and it is expressly included under the head of game in the statute of the first year of the reign of William IV. which codified and reformed the laws relating to game.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Mr. Carpeneto the green groceryman has put up a dandy new awning in front of his store in the Brockerhoff Block.

—Mrs. George W. Packer of Beech Creek announces the engagement of her daughter, Ada Eulalia to Guy H. Thompson of Beech Creek.

—The personal effects of the late Stnford White, who was shot by Harry Thaw, have been sold. The sale amounted to $177,377.

—John Sourbeck has had the exterior of his store all painted in pretty colors John is getting ready for that circus Bill Doak said was coming.

—Did some say the stores were going to close at six o'clock? A good many of the up town stores are ready as soon as the other fellows fall in line.

—The heavy plate windows are being put in Thursday at Doll's bakery and at Brown's shooting gallery. The work is being done by Isaac Miller and carpenters.

—State won from Dickinson College in a closely contested game of base ball at Statelon Friday. Ten innings were played and State won by one point. The score was 5-4.

—Mr. Charles Richard's has almost completed arrangements to open a repair establishment in the jewelry line. He will be located on the 2nd floor in Bush Arcade building.

—Dr. George Church who died Thursday in the Lock Haven hospital was married to Miss Laura Wright formerly of Milesburg. The funeral occurred on Monday in Philadelphia.

—The Episcopal Parrish House is coming along in fine style. The foundation thas been laid and the cement blocks are being placed in shape. Go around and see how pretty it is going to look.

—Mr. Samuel McClure is located in his new position at the Post Office as Stamp Clerk. Mr. McClure says he will stay in Bellefonte until fall when he will go to Princeton where he is studying for the ministry.

—When the Buffalo Run train was speeding up the valley on Friday, three head of cattle belonging to Mr. C. H. Heckman ran on the track and two of them was killed and the third badly injured. The loss to Mr. Heckman will be about $65.00

—The price of milk has gone up to 7 cents a quart or 4 cents a pint. We do not know how many of the milk men are charging this price but Mr. Shivery at the creamery near the match-factory is only charging the old rate 6 a quart or 3 cents a pint.

—On Friday evening Ex-county Treasurer Harrison Kline went to the University hospital at Philadelphia, he was accompanied by Dr. R. G.H. Hays and Sheriff Henry Kline. It is sincerely hoped that Mr. Kline will find relief at this institution.

—The Joseph Meyer farm, located in the eastern part of Harris township, was purchased by Dr. L. G. Kidder for $7,800. The farm is in good tilth, and the price paid is just about fifty per cent of the estimated value of the farm at the of Mr. Meyer's death.

—Have you noticed Frank Nagineys brand new wagon, it is certainly one of the prettiest wheelers ever run over our streets. This goes to show that Frank is doing a lot of business in Bellefonte or he couldn't afford to buy so many things. Now just the other day he bought a new silk hat and a long tail coat.

—At this time of the year most every one in town is cleaning house. We notice the the Bush House has fallen in line and a small army of this prominent hostelry's employees are seen hustling around getting things in good shape for the large summer trade that will soon be knocking at their door. The Bush House without any exceptions is one of the best hotels in this part of the state and it is hard to find many better in the larger cities.

—The coming of the second Brigade encampment this year at Tipton, will depend upon the ability of the officers of the Sheridan Troop to come to an agreement with the owners for the use of the land for camping purposes. If arrangements will be made at Tibton, otherwise another place will be selected. About one hundred acres are needed on the west side of the railroad and an agreement made for the price of the ground. The amount needed to secure the place wil be raised by private subscription and the Sheridan Troop have about finished their canvass for funds.

—Why don't the Curfew blow Sunday nights.

—Miss Elizabeth Dorworth was confined to her home with sickness last week.

—Miss Helen Crissman is confined to her home with sickness. She is suffering from rheumatism.

—The awning in front of the Post Office is about all in. It would't hurt Uncle Sam to put another one up.

—Budd Lucas of Snow Shoe had the misfortune of smashing the end of his finger. He is off duty for a few days.

—State College won from Cornell in a 17 inning game of base ball on Wednesday at Ithaca, N. Y. the score was 3-1 fovor of State.

—Miss Etta Green a young colored girl died on Friday on Lozan street. The cause of her death was due to galloping consumption.

—After looking around all day for Francis Speer in Lock Haven last Friday we finally found him comfortably located on Railroad street.

—On Sunday Hock Toner had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse. The animal was so full of "life" that it took two shots to kill it.

—Miss Calderwood's brother died Monday morning in Buffalo, N. Y. The cause of his death was due to a tumor on the brain. The body was taken to his home in Ohio for burial.

—A little boy by the name of Brown was playing up on Quaker Hill Sunday when he fell from a tree striking his hand on an iron rod tearing it open from the middle to the palm.

—Make arrangements to attend the base ball game on Friday at the Meadowbrook park, formerly the glass works meadow, between State College Varsity and Bellefonte. Admission 25 cents, for benefit of the Bellefonte hospital.

—Edward Gates of the Gazette office bought a new rain coat to wear at the Odd Fellows convention at Lock Haven. Ed is an awful tall fellow and a country girl said to him down there "Mister did you buy that coat in sections?" Then Eddie "snuffed" her.

—A remarkable case of old age, with numerous decendants, appeared in Mahantonga valley, when John Gehres died at the advanced age of 92, leaving 200 decendants. He is survived by his wife, 11 children, 100 grand children and 76 great grand chilpren.

—The Millheim Journal is authority for the statement that all obstacles to the building of the large dam on Penns creek for the purpose of locating a big electric power plant had been overcome and that work on the same would be begun in the near future. Should such be the case it will mean quite a boom for that locality.

—Carl Clair the famous bandmaster, who for 20 years has had charge of the military band with Barnum & Baily's circus, has been removed to a sanitarium and is reported to be in a serious condition. He left the circus at Altoona on Monday and the band is now in charge of Walter English, a well known musical director.

—Some rascals maliscously tore down and stole the hand and broke the glass above Mr. Glenn's photograph sign near the Bush store. These fellows are known and if they do not go to Mr. Glenn and pay him for the damage done, they will be arrested and landed behind the bars. Such kind of business will not be tolerated in Bellefonte.

—Yardmaster A. W. Sites of Harrisburg found a female hobo in a box car the other day who fairly rivaled her fellow male tatterduemalions for dirt and rags. The woman had come from the west and her clothes included four or five skirts and a felt hat that was once white. She would not do much talking but said her name was Elizabeth Rothrock, and at one time she lived in Ohio.

—When General James A. Beaver was walking through Broad street station at Philadelphia Friday evening he lost his wallet containing his mileage book, papers, and all the money he had with him, the train was about to leave and he was just a little perplexed as to what to do. Just then Colonel Chambers arrived at the station and like the Good Samaritan helped the Ex-Governor home to Bellefonte

—If any one sees William Miller the efficient and competent express agent at the American Express office acting in a peculiar way like as though he was treading the air—don't mind him, he can't help it—its in the family. That is a big baby boy was left at his home on Sunday morning and Bill is almost tickled to death. Mrs. Miller and the young man are both getting along splendidly. We offer our congratulations. No thanks we don't drink.

—In writing about the articles chanced off at the armory on Wednesday evening at the Shirt Waist Skate and Dance, we failed to mention a box of fine cigars that the Bush House had given for this purpose. These cigars would have been given away that night had the book containing the numbers been found. In some way this book has been mislaid, but it is hoped that it will be located before long and then the smokers will be given to the party drawing the lucky number.

—No truth at all in the report that the Crider Planing Mill will close down.

—Quite a few of the base ball sports took in the State-Dickinson game at State College Friday.

—Mr. and Mrs. David Kelley are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl which came to their home on Wednesday.

—Memorial Day should be held sacred to the memory of the departed veterans and not made a day for general carousings.

—John Nolan fireman on the shipler in the Bellefonte yards has been transferred to Lock Haven and will do the same work there with more pay.

—Rev. Mr. Ertle of Spring Mills will preach in the Salvation Army hall next Saturday and Sunday nights every body cordially invited to attend.

—Our good friend and fellow townsman John Sourbeck is confined to his home with sickness. It is sincerely hoped he will be able to be around in a few days.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbytertian church will serve one of their elegant suppers on Thursday the 16th. beginning at 5 o'clock, in the Presbyterian Chapel on Spring St.

—Captains Irwin and Hunter and some of the members of the Bellefonte corps of the Salvation Army have arranged to go to Unionville for three nights meeting next week Tuesday. Wednesday, and Thursday. Meetings to be held in the Union Church.

—Monday evening a sort of a drunk fight occurred on the High street bridge that attracted a whole lot of attention. A good many bad words were said but no blows struck. It was the means of gathering about thirty or forty curious people together who no doubt were anxious for a little excitement.

—On Saturday May 11th a demonstrator from the Heinz Pickling establishment will be at the grocery store of John Meese on Allegheny street. The ladies of the town are most cordially invited to be present and taste of the preserves that this renowned manufacturing house will have on exhibition. Saturday May 11th.

—The pavement in front of Lauderbach & company's store is in a dreadful condition, and the parties who put it down should be made repair it Every time it rains a puddle of water gathers there and every one going or coming from the train must either walk through the water or the mud on the road. Whoever has this in charge should attend to it.

—A splendid likeness of Proffessor S. Ward Gramley of Spring Mills and the Graduating Class of the Mt. Union High School appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer Tuesday morning. Prof. Gramley is well thought of in Mt. Union and is highly respected by every student at the school. He has been unanimously selected by the School Board for the next school term.

—John Kane is now located at the Garman House as a mixologist. Tabby is a pretty good "geak" and we know he will fill the position in an acceptable manner. He is pleasant and accommodating and has lots of friends in the old town. And then he is quite an expert at throwing high balls as he is part of the "Original" base ball team and has had a good bit of practice lately at the Meadowbrook park.

—Last week the P. R. R. company sent three engins to the Bellefonte central shops to be repaired. Billy Barlett the foreman wanted to see what was needed and had a fire built in one of them and started up the track. When he come to stop the machine, the pesky thing wouldn't halt, so Billy reversed her and kept it going back and forward, calling for some one to assist him. It would have been going yet if Curt Stover hadn't of jumped on and threw the throttle on.

—Bellefonte Central Railroad's president and directors were re elected Monday. In making a plea for the small railroads to charge more than 2 cents a mile passenger fare President Fazer said that his company runs three trains daily each way between Bellefonte and State College. The returns from passengers to each of these trains for the six months ending December 31. 1906, averaged respectively $4.13. $11.36. $5.71 $13 39 $6.90 and $4.95. It costs about 75 cents per mile, or in round numbers about $15.00 for each of these six trains, which means that all six trains are run at a loss even at present fare.

—The United States Recruiting office, located in the Tyson-Hoffer building, this city, has closed for the time being, and Sergeant Jack Blanton, who had charge of the same, left Monday evenning for Bellefonte where a branch office will be opened. Sergeant Blanton is a very capable official, looking carefully after the business entrusted to his care. In addition he is a most jovial and courteous gentleman, and made many warm friends during his stay here who will very much regret his departure. He, likewise, formed a very warm attachment for our town and people, and in taking his departure Monday evening said he had never left town with such deep regret. Mr. Blanton has opened up an office in Crider's Exchange.—Philipsburg Journal.

Prof. Keller is a very bright and intilligent young man and is held in high esteem by the citizens of Mt. Union. He was one of the boys who served in Company B. during the Spanish-American war. He was a splendid soldier always ready to do his duty.

Scrap at the Furnace.

On Thursday three Austrains had too much of "Oh Be Joyful" and when men get in that condition they make perfect fools of themselves, for when drink is in, sence is out.

Three men known as the top fillers at the Bellefonte Furnace have been boozing ever since the wedding about ten days ago, and every day, off and on they have been fightingiand carrying on at a high rate. Two of the top fillers had it in for the third one and on Tuesday it was their intention to send him into the other world. They went to the furnace in a fearful rage and with long stilettos, went up in the elevator to where the other man was. He saw that they were going to do him up, and as the elevator had gone down again, the only way to escape was by the way of steps or a ladder. He was successful in getting away all right but not any too soon as one fellow came near fixing his clock. The other fellows did not follow him down the steps but waited for the elevator, in the mean time the third man reached the ground and reported the assault to Mr. Kelly the superintendent, who at a moments notice had the elevator stopped when about half way up, holding the two offenders as prisoners, while he telephoned to the Sheriff who went immediately to scene of action. It is certainly a lucky thing the fellow thought of going down the ladder, as it is said the other two certainly meant business. We might have had another murder trial in Centre Co.

Rag Peddlers Misfortune.

On Monday two of our Hebrew brethren had been gathering rags, bones and other articles at Milesburg and from the looks of their wagon they certainly had done a real good business. As they wanted to do some buying at one of the stores, they led the horse into a shed at the Wagner mill. The horse being thirsty and saw water handy, backed out of the shed and walked into the stream. All at once the beast went into a deep hole and it was either swim or drown for Mr. Horse, and he struck out. When he was in the middle of the creek the water lifted the bed of the wagon from the front wheels, and then the scene was kind of laughable. Every thing imaginable could be seen floating down the creek. The horse with shafts and two wheels started up through the main street of Milesburg and when in front of Else's Drug store they collided with a telephone pole. The horse got free and ran as far as Linn & McCoy's works before being caught.

The two peddlers with the assistance of a number of boys pulled the wagon out and saved a good many of the rags.

Detectives Are Busy.

The Pennsylvania railroad detectives who have been located in Lock Haven some time past have arrested a number of offenders for illegal car riding and other practices that the company are endeavoring to break up. The Bellefonte boys want to keep their eyes open, some of these fine days they will be nabbed.
